LUCKY ME, LUCY MCGEE

(May 2020, Holiday House, 112 pp)

Chapter Book – Humor / Contemporary / Realistic / Friendship / Art / Music

Lucy McGee's ukulele is missing! She is determined to track down her beloved instrument, but she can't let anyone catch on—even best friend Phillip. When Lucy learns that her favorite YouTube songwriting stars are playing a show on Saturday and they're giving away a free ukulele, it seems like the perfect solution, if it weren't so expensive.

Frenemy Scarlett announces that she has an extra ticket to the show and Lucy McGee will have to get extra creative to find out what happened to her uke and to charm the always-scheming Scarlett in this humorous but heartfelt chapter book.

The third book in Mary Amato's charming Lucy McGee series features artwork on every page as well as song lyrics for aspiring musicians to try out on their own.

◀ SING WITH ME, LUCY MCGEE

(Spring 2019, Holiday House, 176 pp)

Chapter Book – Humor / Contemporary / Realistic / Friendship / Family / Art / Music

A humorous story about jealousy, music, and the true meaning of friendship.

The Fall Talent Show is coming to Lucy McGee's elementary school, and Lucy can't wait to perform with her friends. But when mean-girl Scarlett steals Lucy's song, chaos ensues as friend and foe face off in hilarious ways. When Scarlett takes things too far on opening night, can Lucy save the show and her friendships? This heavily-illustrated chapter book is the second in a series that features fun bonus material: a link to hear Lucy's songs with downloadable lyric-and-chord booklets, instructional videos, and karaoke tracks so that readers can sing their hearts out!

NEWS FROM ME, LUCY MCGEE

(October 2018, Holiday House, 144 pp)

Chapter Book – Humor / Contemporary / Realistic / Friendship / Family / Art / Music

A heartwarming and humorous story about friendship and family.

When the coolest girl in the 4th grade invites you to her exclusive after-school club, how can you say no? Soon Lucy McGee realizes she's been tricked into becoming mean girl Scarlett Tandy's errand girl—and she's getting in trouble for skipping her after-school activities like Songwriting Club. Clearly Lucy has to strike back! But it turns out that singing and playing your ukulele—and having loads of fun doing it—are the best revenge.

This heavily-illustrated chapter book is the first in a new series by Mary Amato. It features lyrics and chords for four of Lucy's songs, as well as a link to mp3s, and a sneak peek of Book Two, Sing With Me, Lucy McGee!

◀ OPEN MIC NIGHT AT WESTMINSTER CEMETERY: A NOVEL IN TWO ACTS

I D

(September 2018, Lerner Publishing Group, 264 pp)

Young Adult – Humor / Supernatural / Paranormal / Contemporary

Surprising emotions emerge in this darkly hilarious literary ghost story—part stage play, part novel—about truth, forgiveness, and love.

Sixteen-year-old slam-poet Lacy Brink wakes up dead—and confused—in Westminster Cemetery. It's the job of Sam, a young Civil War soldier who died in 1865, to help her adjust to the strict rules of the afterlife and to warn her about Suppression, a punishment even worse than death. Given the task of providing entertainment, Lacy organizes an open mic. With the help of Sam and other new allies, including the cemetery's most famous resident—Edgar Allan Poe—the open mic become a chance for cemetery residents to express sensitive and complex truths, including experiences of trauma and abuse.

OUR TEACHER IS A VAMPIRE

I D UK

(March 2016, Holiday House, 256 pp)

Middle Grade – Contemporary / Humor / School / Journaling

It all begins when Alexander H. Gory Jr. passes around a notebook in which he reveals a tantalizing secret: he has proof that their teacher, Mrs. Penrose, is a vampire. Soon the entire class is speculating and adding their opinions to the notebook until... it lands in Mrs. Penrose's hands. It turns out that Mrs. Penrose has been keeping a secret: she is expecting a baby. But since the notebook is encouraging her students to write and improving their spelling and grammar, Mrs. Penrose allows it to continue circulating.

FELIX EVER AFTER

(May 2020, Balzer + Bray/HarperCollins)

Young Adult – Contemporary / Realistic / Commercial / LGBTQ+ / Diverse / Romance / Coming-of-age / Bullying

From Stonewall and Lambda Literary Award-winning author Kacen Callender comes a poignant story of identity and self-discovery, layered with romance.

Felix Love has never been in love, and he's painfully aware of the irony. What's worse is that, despite being proud of his identity, Felix also secretly fears that he's one marginalization too many—Black, queer, and transgender—to get his own happily ever after. But when his plans to get revenge on a transphobic anonymous bully via catfishing lands him in a quasi-love triangle, he'll learn a thing or two about falling in love—and recognizing the love that may have been there all along.

FELIX EVER AFTER is an empowering, compulsively readable trans coming-of-age story with a happy and romantic ending. It deals with issues of gender identity and questioning, especially within the larger LGBTQIA+ community and features a cast of queer main characters of color who identify across the spectrum on their gender and sexuality—important intersectional representation not often seen in YA lit.

◀ KING AND THE DRAGONFLIES

(February 2020, Scholastic, 272pp)

Middle Grade – LGBTQ+ / Diverse / Coming-of-age / Literary / Magical realism / Family

From the Stonewall and Lambda Book Award-winning author of Hurricane Child comes a novel about loss, grief, and finding the courage to discover one's identity.

Twelve-year-old Kingston James is sure his brother Khalid has turned into a dragonfly after his sudden death, shedding what King considers was his first skin to live down by the bayou in their small Louisiana town. Khalid visits King in his dreams, but tells him not to tell anyone that he's become a dragonfly, and so King keeps the secret to himself as he watches his parents evolve through their grief, and works through his own building anger and sadness at having lost his brother. To make matters worse, just days before his death, Khalid overheard King's best friend Sandy telling King a secret—that he thinks he might be gay—so Khalid made King end their friendship. But when King finds Sandy hiding in a tent in his backyard, he agrees to help Sandy escape from his abusive father, and the two begin an adventure as they build their own private paradise down by the bayou and amongst the dragonflies. THE THING ABOUT JELLYFISH meets THE STARS BENEATH OUR FEET.

◀ THIS IS KIND OF AN EPIC LOVE STORY

(October 2018, Balzer + Bray/HarperCollins, 304 pp)

Young Adult – Romance / Coming-of-age / Commercial / Contemporary / Realistic / Diverse / Friendship / Humor / LGBTQIA+

A fluffy romantic comedy that plays with the friends-to-lovers and second-chance tropes featuring diverse LGBTQ+ teens.

Nathan Bird is a film buff, but he's a firm disbeliever in real-life happy endings. Still reeling from the death of his father and the recent demise of his relationship with his best friend Florence, he doesn't always make the best choices and certainly not any that would paint him as a hero. But when his old childhood friend (and former crush) Oliver moves back into town, he's faced with another chance to self-sabotage, or maybe instead, he'll realize that sometimes when you fall in love, someone might catch you.

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

"...a delightful cast of teenage characters who feel so authentic that readers will be scanning their school cafeterias for them. The author has a talent for capturing the earnest-yet-awkward cadence of teenspeak, and they explore the humor and pathos of adolescent relationships in a way that demonstrates a deep respect for the teen audience... A delightful testimony to the enduring power of love."

◀ HURRICANE CHILD

(March 2018, Scholastic, 224 pp)

Middle Grade – Literary / Magical Realism / Coming-of-age / Bullying / Diverse / LGBTQIA+ / Family / Friendship / Caribbean

A lyrical, debut middle grade novel with a touch of magical realism and LGBTQ+ themes, about first friendship, first love, and finding self-acceptance.

12-year-old Caroline Murphy is a Hurricane Child, having been born during a hurricane in the US Virgin Islands which is said to be a sign of bad luck. Caroline has certainly had her share: she's hated by her classmates and was abandoned by her mother years before. She can also see things others can't—at least until the new girl Kalinda crosses her path, who can see the same ghostly figures as Caroline. In the midst of a building hurricane and while discovering a crush on her new classmate despite the local homophobia, Caroline sets out to find her mother—and answers—once and for all.

STARRED REVIEW FROM PUBLISHER'S WEEKLY

"Callender's debut enriches the growing body of LGBTQ fiction for upper-elementary- and middle-school students. Visceral, pensive, and memorable."

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

"An excellent and nuanced coming-of-age tale with a dash of magical realism for readers who enjoy character-driven novels, especially those with middle grade LGBTQ+ characterizations."

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

"Embedding (their) appealing protagonist in a fully realized Caribbean setting, Callender has readers rooting for Caroline the whole way."

◀ WINTERFOLK

(February 2018, HarperTeen/HarperCollins, 320 pp)

Young Adult – Literary / Magical Realism / Coming-of-age / Family / Social Justice

A modern-day fairytale, gritty and lyrical, this is a debut about a young homeless girl who ventures into the city for the first time since childhood in order to save her community.

For as long as she can remember, Rain’s place has been among the Winterfolk, a group of homeless people living outside of Seattle. Being homeless has taught Rain how to be invisible, but when she discovers that the city plans to demolish the Winterfolk’s camp, she must show herself if she wants to stay. She convinces her friend King to take her into the city for help; it’s full of strange sights, sounds, people—and memories. Rain and King become separated when they cross paths with a petty drug dealer, and with Rain unwittingly carrying the dealer’s property, she must find a way to survive the day if she wants a shot at saving the only family she’s ever known.

PRAISE FROM KIRKUS

“...skillfully balances hard realism with hope.... A thoughtful dive into a far-too-often overlooked part of society.”

THIS WOULD MAKE A GOOD STORY SOMEDAY

(Spring 2017, Penguin Random House, 260 pp)

Middle Grade – Contemporary / Realistic / Friendship / Family / LGBTQIA+ / Activism / Social Justice / Diverse

Fans of Dan Santat’s Are We There Yet and Geoff Rodkey’s The Tapper Twins will enjoy this cross-country train trip of a middle grade novel. Twelve-year-old Sara loves her family, but she’s less than thrilled when her summer plans are upended for a family train trip across the country with her two moms, her wild younger sister Ladybug, her older sister Laurel, and Laurel’s activist boyfriend. New friends aboard the train cause Sara to re-examine her goals as she gets ready to enter middle school. At turns slapstick and heart-wrenching, this story deals with the way we change our thinking when we change the landscape around us. Told through journal entries, postcards, notes, and emails, it offers great tie-in opportunities for US geography lessons.

STARRED REVIEW FROM BOOKLIST

“Levy doesn’t shy away from looking at tough topics through Sara’s eyes. . . The novel features plenty of family drama and silliness. . . its engaging main character makes it a truly memorable read.”

THE FAMILY FLETCHER TAKES ROCK ISLAND

(May 2016, Delacorte/Penguin Random House, 272 pp)

Middle Grade – Contemporary / Realistic / Friendship / Family / Humor / LGBTQIA+ / Diverse

Fans of The Penderwicks and other summer tales will enjoy this stand-alone companion novel to the acclaimed Misadventures of the Family Fletcher. Set on a fictional New England island, the boys, ages 7-13, are unhappy to find that much has changed on the island “where time stands still.” New kids next door, the chance to be in a play, and the pending destruction of their beloved lighthouse conspire to make it a summer unlike any other. Touching on issues as far ranging as Shakespeare’s plays to sea life and gender assumptions to racial stereotyping, this funny and touching middle grade novel offers laughs and life lessons.

THE MISADVENTURES OF THE FAMILY FLETCHER

(July 2014, Delacorte/Penguin Random House, 260 pp)

Middle Grade – Contemporary / Realistic / Humor / Friendship / Family / LGBTQIA+ / School / Adoption / Diverse

Modern Family meets modern classics like Beverly Cleary’s Quimbys and Judy Blume’s Hatchers in this heartwarming and hilarious middle grade novel. Four adopted brothers, two dads, and an ever-changing number of pets face the start of a school year full of excitement and challenges. This gentle and entertaining story works as a read-aloud or is a great introduction to independent reading.

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

“Although the tone is never preachy, the brothers nevertheless learn over the course of the year that identities can expand, friendships can evolve, and making mistakes is okay. With its semi-episodic structure, laugh-out-loud humor, and mix of zaniness and love, Levy’s debut offers something truly significant: a middle-grade family story featuring gay parents and interracial families that is never about either issue.”

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

“An old-fashioned summer adventure set in a very modern world, this lively family tale will leave readers impatient for more.”

Middle Grade – Magical Realism / Literary / Contemporary / Coming-of-age / Friendship, Diverse / Latinx / Immigration

Twelve-year-old Minerva Soledad Madrid does not believe in fairies (or peques, as mamá calls them), despite the fact that her family insists peques followed them from Argentina to the US watch over them. As the oldest helping to care for her baby sisters while their mom works two jobs, Minnie doesn’t often get to be childish and dreams of being the first Latina president of the United States. A tiny part of her would like to believe in such fantasies, though, which is why she also dreams of being cast as Wendy in their school’s production of Peter Pan.

Those dreams are put on hold when one day mamá doesn’t come home. Days pass and Minnie is determined to keep her mother’s disappearance a secret and keep her sisters out of foster care while she tries to figure out what happened. Meanwhile, small gifts appear and unexpected, helpful coincidences occur. Could it really be peques like her sisters insist? And if it is, could they bring their mother back?

◀ THE SULLIVAN SISTERS

(May 2020, Simon & Schuster Books for Young Readers)

Young Adult – Young Adult - Contemporary / Realistic / Mystery / Noir / Coming-of-age / LGBTQ+ / Family

For readers who were riveted by mysteries like SADIE by Courtney Summers and TWO CAN KEEP A SECRET by Karen McManus.

The Sullivan Sisters used to be close, sharing secrets inside homemade blanket castles. Now, life in the Sullivan house means closed doors and secrets left untold. Fourteen-year-old Murphy, an aspiring magician, is shocked by the death of Siegfried, her pet turtle. Seventeen-year-old Claire is bound for better things than her Oregonian hometown—until she receives a crushing rejection from her dream college. And eighteen-year-old Eileen is nursing a growing addiction in the wake of life-altering news. Then, days before Christmas, a letter arrives, informing the sisters of a dead uncle and an inheritance they knew nothing about. The news forces them to band together in the face of a sinister family mystery . . . and, possibly, murder.

THE GREAT UNKNOWABLE END

(February 2019, Simon and Schuster Books for Young Readers, 400 pp)

Young Adult – Historical / Speculative / Supernatural / Contemporary / Coming-of-age / Family / Friendship / Diverse / Genre-bending

A humorous, lightly speculative novel for fans of “Welcome to Nightvale” with points of view from two teens with opposing beliefs who come together at what might be the end of the world in a small American town during the ‘70s.

Stella used to dream about becoming a space engineer—that was before she lost her mother to suicide and her brother ran off to join Red Sun, the local hippie commune. Galliard, on the other hand, has been in Red Sun his whole life, where people accept his Tourette’s, but when he’s denied the commune’s “resident artist” role he believed he was destined for, he starts to imagine life outside. The two cross paths at the same time peculiar things start to happen: pink lightning, blood-red rain, and a mysterious countdown clock over town hall. With time ticking, the two teens face questions of faith, family, and who they want to be when the world ends.

TASH HEARTS TOLSTOY

(June 2017, Simon and Schuster Books for Young Readers, 384 pp)

Young Adult – Contemporary / Realistic / LGBTQIA+ / Coming-of-age / Friendship / Diverse / Humor

A refreshing LGBTQ+ coming-of-age novel about Internet fame, peer pressure, and YouTube.

After a shout-out from one of the Internet’s superstar vloggers, Natasha “Tash” Zelenka suddenly finds herself and the obscure, amateur web series she runs with her friends, Unhappy Families, thrust in the limelight: She’s gone viral.

Tash is a fan of the 40,000 new subscribers, their gushing tweets, and flashy Tumblr gifs. Not so much the pressure to deliver the best web series ever or the tension it causes with her friends and cast/crew. And when Unhappy Families is nominated for a Golden Tuba award, Tash’s cyber-flirtation with a fellow award nominee suddenly has the potential to become something IRL—if she can figure out how to tell said crush that she’s romantic asexual.

STARRED REVIEW FROM BOOKLIST

“It’s beyond refreshing to see an asexual character, and the complexities of Tash’s relationships with Thom, her friends, her sister, and, yes, fame make this a home run.”

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

“A clever, thoroughly enjoyable addition to the growing body of diverse teen literature.”

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

“Funny, well written, and compulsively readable, this will especially appeal to readers with an interest in web series. A strong voice for YA shelves.”

LUCKY FEW

(June 2016, Simon & Schuster Books for Young Readers 384 pp)

Young Adult – Contemporary / Realistic / Coming-of-age / Friendship / Humor

A quirky black comedy about oddball teens facing mortality. Focused on strong friendships and madcap adventures, this is a John Hughes movie in novel form.

The life of homeschooler Stevie Hart gets all shook up when she meets Max, a strange boy who survived a freak near-fatal accident and is now obsessed with death.

He enlists her and her best friend, Sanger, to help him complete his absurd “23 Ways to Fake My Death Without Dying” checklist. What starts off as fun fabricated demises, ranging from impalement to spontaneous combustion, begins spiraling downward when Stevie’s diabetes sabotages her fumbling romance with Max, Sanger announces she’s moving out of state, and then death—real death—cuts a little too close to home.

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

“The smart, efficient language features dialogue that pops. A sweet story told with intelligence, humor, and just the right amount of kissing.”

STARRED REVIEW FROM BOOKLIST

“Winsome characters, crackling dialogue... A well-rounded cast of secondary characters, a slant approach to a serious topic, and a sensitive exploration of the fraught dynamics of a home-schooling co-op add further depth.”

Young Adult – Historical / Diverse / Feminism

This historical fiction novel set in the summer of 1972, months before the landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision in Roe vs. Wade, is an introspective look into abortion rights. The novel weaves together the lives of three teenage girls from very different backgrounds. 16-year-old Ola, 12-year-old Mississippi, and 15-year-old Sue all find themselves pregnant pre-Choice, and must decide, before they become too far along in their pregnancies, how to move forward.

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

“An excellent fictionalized look at the reality of teen pregnancy with a historical lens. A must for all teen collections.”

INTO WHITE

(Feiwel & Friends/Macmillan, September 2016, 288 pp)

Young Adult – Contemporary / Magical Realism / Diverse / Coming-of-age

Sixteen-year-old Latoya Williams, who is black, attends a mostly white high school in the Alabama. In a moment of desperation, she prays for the power to change her race and wakes up white. Randi Pink's audacious fiction debut dares to explore a subject that will spark conversations about race, class, and gender.

STARRED REVIEW FROM BOOKLIST

Using the trappings of a fairy tale, Pink pulls readers in with Toya's charming naiveté and a highly eccentric version of Montgomery, Alabama. (Yes, Jesus is a character, and he drives a stolen 1990 Saab and listens to Mariah Carey.) Underneath, though, hides a grittier tale of race and gender dynamics in the contemporary South. Pink is careful to never allow the story itself to fall into agenda-pushing. Instead, she allows Toya to explore the gray areas teens negotiate as their identities shift and as their belief systems are challenged. This debut ought to inspire readers to have conversations among themselves about family, empathy, community, and respect for others.

(June 2019, Kokila/Penguin Random House, 304 pp)

Young Adult – Contemporary / Realistic / Mystery / Literary / Coming-of-age / Family / Diverse / Activism Social Justice / Immigration / Philippines

A powerful coming-of-age story about grief, guilt, and the risks a Filipino-American teenager takes to uncover the truth about his cousin's murder.

Jay Reguero plans to spend the last semester of his senior year playing video games before heading to University of Michigan in the fall. But when he discovers that his Filipino cousin Jun was murdered as part of President Duterte's war on drugs, and no one in the family wants to talk about what happened, Jay travels to the Philippines to find out the real story. Hoping to uncover more about Jun and the events that led to his death, Jay is forced to reconcile the many sides of his cousin before he can face the whole horrible truth -- and the part he played in it.

As gripping as it is lyrical, Patron Saints of Nothing is a page-turning portrayal of the struggle to reconcile faith, family, and immigrant identity.

LAND OF THE CRANES

(Spring 2020, Arthur A. Levine Books/Scholastic)

Middle Grade – Poetry / Contemporary / Diverse / Latinx / Activism / Social Justice / Immigration

This free verse middle grade novel, inspired in part by the author's own childhood as an undocumented immigrant, tells the story of 9-year-old Betita, who believes that she and other migrants follow an Aztec prophecy to fly as free as cranes. When her father is deported to Mexico and she and her mother are detained by ICE, she turns to writing picture poems as her own way to fly above the deplorable conditions that she and other cranes experience while they are caged. Betita ends up leading other detainees in a picture poem campaign that goes viral on social media and helps to bring improved change to the conditions inside the detention center and the release of some of the cranes.

◀ THE MOON WITHIN

(Spring 2019, Arthur A. Levine Books/Scholastic, 250 pp)

Middle Grade – Poetry / Contemporary / Realistic / LGBTQIA+ / Diverse / Feminism

This free verse middle grade novel tells the story of 11-year-old Cely, whose life swirls with questions about her changing body, her first attraction to a boy, her best friend's exploration of what it means to be genderfluid, and her mother's insistence she have a Chicana moon ceremony for her first menses.

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

"A worthy successor to Are You There God? It's Me, Margaret set in present-day Oakland. . . Salazar's verse novel is sensitive and fresh, featuring modern interpretations of pre-Columbian coming-of-age traditions that arise organically from the characters. . . An authentically middle school voice and diverse Latinx cast make this book a standout."

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

"An excellent addition for upper middle grade and middle school readers, especially for maturing tweens in the midst of puberty."

STARRED REVIEW FROM PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

"The broader message is one of acceptance, celebration, and resistance: a period is just a period, Salazar suggests, but it's also so much more."

STARRED REVIEW FROM BOOKPAGE

"The Moon Within is both unique and universal, relatable to women and girls everywhere and singular in its context within Latinx culture. Salazar handles this story with beauty and grace, giving young girls a picture of what it means to stand in your own power and reclaim your own story."

Young Adult – High Fantasy / Action / Adventure / Family / Diverse / Feminism

With three revolving points-of-view, this diverse, epic, richly-imagined Asian fantasy is set against a world of ancient magic and political intrigue.

Assertive Lu has always expected to be named her father's heir and become the dynasty's first female ruler, while her timid sister Min expects to lead a quiet life in Lu's shadow. But when their father declares Lu will marry her cousin, Set, who will take the throne instead, ripples shock the realm and throw the girls' lives into chaos.

Determined to reclaim her birthright, Lu goes on the run. She forms a shaky alliance with Nokhai, the lone, unlikely survivor of the Ashina, a clan of nomadic wolf shapeshifters wiped out by Lu's father. Meanwhile Min's own hidden power awakens, a forbidden, deadly magic that she could use to secure Set's reign—or her own. There can only be one emperor and the sisters' greatest enemy could turn out to be each other.

Animals / Friendship

Alfred the possum, who plays dead, and Sophia the armadillo, who rolls up in a ball, stand in for shy or anxious humans whose discomfort keeps them from fitting in. Jennifer Black Reinhardt has cast animals with defense mechanisms as characters to tell an imaginative, endearing story about learning to make friends by mastering fear and shyness. Alfred and Sofia open up to each other and go on to help other creatures who have social difficulties by practicing patience, forgiveness, and friendship—tools for overcoming the barriers that keep us from connecting with others. An author's note lists real animals and their defensive behaviors.

Humor / Animals

At once funny and informative, Yaks Yak presents animals acting out the verbs made from their names. Illustrations rich in comic details show hogs hogging, slugs slugging, and other spirited creatures demonstrating homographs, words with different meanings that are spelled and pronounced the same. A chart listing the words, their meanings, and their history is included. Ideal for sharing, this book offers a sprightly and fanciful introduction to a fun form of wordplay.

◀ AVIARY WONDERS

(March 2014, Clarion/HMH, 32 pp)

Speculative / Humor / Animals

Since 2031, Aviary Wonders Inc. has offered bird lovers a unique opportunity: Assemble your own bird from stunningly beautiful and carefully hand-crafted parts. The birds can even be taught to fly and to sing! This slyly satirical crafter's delight is offered as the perfect antidote to extinction of birds in the wild. Brilliantly illustrated with oil paintings and filled with laugh-aloud asides as well as sobering facts about extinct species, this mock catalog is a clever send-up of contemporary sales spin and a thought-provoking look into an all-too-possible future.

STARRED REVIEWS FROM KIRKUS, PUBLISHERS WEEKLY AND BOOKLIST

WINNER OF THE 2014 KIRKUS PRIZE LITERARY AWARD

"Aviary Wonders Inc. is a picture book that widens the definition of the genre. While truly a picture book, it was created for readers aged 10 and up with well-developed sensibilities and senses of humor. Confronting environmental issues in a clever and whimsical way, it is original, highly unexpected, beautiful, and thought-provoking. Aviary Wonders Inc. is by far one of the most creative books we have ever encountered."

◀ MANHATTAN: THE STORY OF AN ISLAND

(August 2019, Abrams, 64 pp)

Nonfiction / History

A nonfiction picture book about the history, humans, and natural events that have shaped Manhattan for over four hundred years. Through dramatic illustrations and detailed maps, the island's story comes to life as it becomes home to one of the greatest cities in the world, and continues to be a magnet for people from all over the world. Sidebars focusing on moments in history, a timeline, and select sources in the back matter encourage further reading.

STARRED REVIEW FROM SHELF AWARENESS

"Manhattan, with tons of backmatter and fun paratextual material, uses every part of the book—from the front cover all the way to the final endpapers—to give young readers an in-depth and entertaining history of the city on the island."

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

"The maps, colorful illustrations, and accessible text present a comprehensive history of Manhattan as an island and a good introduction to the study of urban growth for students of all ages. Very valuable to students in the New York City metropolitan area, but also highly informative for all readers"

STARRED REVIEW FROM KIRKUS

"The vibrant history that unfolds will hold children's attention through repeated viewings."

STARRED REVIEW FROM BOOKLIST

"This slice of American history is a gem."

STARRED REVIEW FROM PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

"Like Manhattan itself, much is packed into this handsomely illustrated history."

◀ THE TYRANT'S TOMB

(Hyperion, September 2019, 448 pp)

Apollo's journey takes him to Camp Jupiter in the San Francisco Bay Area, where the Roman demigods are preparing for a desperate last stand against the evil Triumvirate of Roman emperors. Hazel, Reyna, Frank, Tyson, Ella, and many other old friends will need Apollo's aid to survive the onslaught. Unfortunately, the answer to their salvation lies in the forgotten tomb of a Roman ruler . . . someone even worse than the emperors Apollo has already faced.

THE BURNING MAZE

(Hyperion, May 2018, 448 pp)

The words Meg uttered while seated on the Throne of Memory revealed that an evil triumvirate of Roman emperors plans to attack Camp Jupiter. While Leo flies ahead on Festus to warn the Roman camp, Lester and Meg must go through the Labyrinth to find the third emperor--and an Oracle who speaks in word puzzles--somewhere in the American Southwest.

THE DARK PROPHECY

(Hyperion, May 2017, 432 pp)

Lester must leave the relative safety of Camp Half-Blood and embark on a hair-raising journey across North America. Fortunately, what he lacks in godly graces he's gaining in new friendships--with heroes who will be very familiar to fans of the Percy Jackson and the Olympians and the Heroes of Olympus series. Come along for what promises to be a harrowing, hilarious, and haiku-filled ride.

The Trials of Apollo

THE HIDDEN ORACLE

(Hyperion, May 2016, 384 pp)
 After angering his father Zeus, the god Apollo is cast down from Olympus. Weak and disorientated, he lands in New York City as a regular teenage boy. Now, without his godly powers, the four-thousand-year-old deity must learn to survive in the modern world until he can somehow find a way to regain Zeus's favor. But Apollo has many enemies - gods, monsters and mortals who would love to see the former Olympian permanently destroyed. Apollo needs help, and he can think of only one place to go... an enclave of modern demigods known as Camp Half-Blood.

Magnus Chase and the Gods of Asgard

◀ THE SHIP OF THE DEAD

(October 2017, Hyperion, 432 pp)

Loki is free from his chains. He's readying Naglfar, the Ship of the Dead, complete with a host of giants and zombies, to sail against the Asgardian gods and begin the final battle of Ragnarok. It's up to Magnus and his friends to stop him, but to do so they will have to sail across the oceans of Midgard, Jotunheim, and Niflheim in a desperate race to reach Naglfar before it's ready to sail. Along the way, they will face angry sea gods, hostile giants, and an evil fire-breathing dragon. Magnus's biggest challenge will be facing his own inner demons. Does he have what it takes to outwit the wily trickster god?

THE HAMMER OF THOR

(October 2016, Hyperion, 480 pp)

Thor's hammer is missing again. The thunder god has a disturbing habit of misplacing his weapon--the mightiest force in the Nine Worlds. But this time the hammer isn't just lost, it has fallen into enemy hands. If Magnus Chase and his friends can't retrieve the hammer quickly, the mortal worlds will be defenseless against an onslaught of giants. Ragnarok will begin. The Nine Worlds will burn. Unfortunately, the only person who can broker a deal for the hammer's return is the gods' worst enemy, Loki--and the price he wants is very high.

THE SWORD OF SUMMER

(Hyperion, October 2015, 499 pp)

Magnus Chase has always been a troubled kid. Since his mother's mysterious death, he's lived alone on the streets of Boston, surviving by his wits, keeping one step ahead of the police and the truant officers. One day, he's tracked down by an uncle he barely knows--a man his mother claimed was dangerous. Uncle Randolph tells him an impossible secret: Magnus is the son of a Norse god. The Viking myths are true. The gods of Asgard are preparing for war. Trolls, giants and worse monsters are stirring for doomsday. To prevent Ragnarok, Magnus must search the Nine Worlds for a weapon that has been lost for thousands of years.

◀ AMERICAN LOVE STORY

(October 2019, Carina Press)

No one should have to choose between love and justice.

Haitian-born professor and activist Patrice Denis is not here for any distractions, including Easton Archer, the assistant district attorney from a completely different world who gave Patrice some of the most intense nights of his life last summer. With local law enforcement unfairly targeting young men of color, Easton's career—and conscience—are on the line. Now is hardly the time to be thirsting after Patrice again, but for the first time, Patrice is tempted to open up and embrace the happiness he's always denied himself. As tensions between the community and the sheriff's office hit closer to home than either could imagine, they'll have to work to forge a path forward...together.

AMERICAN FAIRYTALE

(May 2019, Carina Press)

New York City social worker Camilo Santiago Briggs always dreamed of his own happily-ever-after, but he lives in the real world. Men who seem too good to be true...usually are. Thomas Hughes built a billion-dollar business from nothing: he knows what he wants and isn't shy about going after it. When the enthralling stranger who blew his mind at a black-tie gala reappears, Tom's more than ready to shower Milo with the very best of everything. Trouble is, Milo's not interested in any of it. The only thing Milo wants is Tom. Milo must learn to let someone take care of him, for a change and Tom needs to understand that real love is the one thing you can't buy.

AMERICAN DREAMER

(May 2019, Carina Press)

Nesto Vasquez is moving his Afro-Caribbean food truck from New York City to the wilds of Upstate New York. He's got six months to make it happen—the last thing he needs is a distraction.

Jude Fuller is proud of the safe, quiet life he's built on the banks of Cayuga Lake, but it's damn lonely. That is, until he tries Ithaca's most-talked-about new lunch spot and works up the courage to flirt with the handsome owner. Soon he can't get enough—of Nesto's food or of Nesto. For the first time in his life, Jude can finally taste the kind of happiness that's always been just out of reach. Can these two lovebirds overcome their insecurities to find happiness together, or will they let fear ruin the best thing they've ever had?

Chapter Book – Animals / Fantasy / Adventure / Friendship / School

EXPLORING ACCORDING TO OG THE FROG

(July 2019, Putnam Penguin, 160 pp)

Og the Frog would love to explore like his pal Humphrey, but he can't climb like a hamster, and he worries he'll dry out if he leaves his tank for too long. But Og knows that taking risks can pay off and he's determined to help his classmates understand this, too. Whether it's finding the courage to share an out-of-the-box idea, helping a sister begin to listen to her little brother or inspiring a special needs child to show his hidden talent, Og encourages everyone to be brave and go after their dreams. And if he fully embraces his frogginess, maybe he can explore as much as Humphrey!

◀ LIFE ACCORDING TO OG THE FROG

(July 2018, Putnam Penguin, 160 pp)

The adventures in Humphrey's Room 26 are hopping back into the spotlight, from the perspective of Og the Frog!

When Og the Frog first comes to Room 26, he doesn't know what to think. He misses his friends from the pond, there are all kinds of strange noises, and the water in his tank just might be too clean (you know, a little muck never hurt anyone). But the furry, squeaky fellow living next to him is endlessly entertaining, the kids sure are friendly, and—BING, BANG, BOING!— he gets lots of inspiration for making up poems and songs. But he gets stumped when talk turns to sending him back to the pond. Will he have to say goodbye just when he's starting to feel at home?

Og's frog's-eye view of the world is curious, sympathetic, and poetic, and the perfect companion to The World According to Humphrey.

Note: One more Og the Frog book is under contract.

◀ FACTORY GIRL

(January 2017, Clarion/HMH, 256 pp)

Young Adult – Realistic / Literary / Activism / Diverse / Family / Friendship

In order to save her family's farm, Roshen, sixteen, must leave her rural home to work in a factory in the south of China. There she finds arduous and degrading conditions and contempt for her minority (Uyghur) background. Sustained by her bond with other Uyghur girls, Roshen is resolved to endure all to help her family and ultimately her people. A workplace survival story, this gritty, poignant account focuses on a courageous teen and illuminates the value—and cost—of freedom.

THE VINE BASKET

(April 2013, Clarion/HMH, 256 pp)

Young Adult – Realistic / Literary / Diverse / Family

Things aren't looking good for fourteen-year-old Mehrigul. She yearns to be in school, but she's needed on the family farm. The longer she's out of school, the more likely it is that she'll be sent off to a Chinese factory... perhaps never to return. Her only hope is an American woman who buys one of her decorative vine baskets for a staggering sum and says she will return in three weeks for more. Mehrigul must brave terrible storms, torn-up hands from working the fields, and her father's scorn to get the baskets done. The stakes are high, and time is passing. A powerful intergenerational story of a strong, creative young artist in a cruelly oppressive society.

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

"The vivid and authentic sense of place, custom, and politics serves as an effective vehicle for the skillfully characterized, emotionally charged story.... An absorbing read and an excellent choice for expanding global understanding."

(February 2016, Clarion/HMH, 368 pp)

Young Adult – Dystopian / Commercial / Action / Romance

Sixteen-year-old Lyla lives in a bleak, controlling society where only the brightest and most favored students succeed. When she is caught buying cheats in an underground shadow market, she is tattooed—marked—as a criminal. Then she is offered redemption and she jumps at the chance . . . but it comes at a cost. Doing what is right means betraying the boy she has come to love, and, perhaps, losing even more than she thought possible. Graphic novel-style vignettes revealing the history of this world provide Lyla with guidance and clues to a possible way out of the double bind she finds herself in.

PRAISE FROM KIRKUS

McCaffrey's society has a Dickensian feel to it, with a heaving, discontented underclass dominated by the barons who control the source of power and the inventors who wield it. An original, textured page-turner.

◀ BREAKTHROUGH: HOW THREE PEOPLE SAVED “BLUE BABIES” AND CHANGED MEDICINE FOREVER

(December 2016, Clarion/HMH, 144 pp)

Middle Grade – Nonfiction / History / Science

In 1944 a groundbreaking operation repaired the congenital heart defect known as blue baby syndrome. The operation’s success brought the surgeon Alfred Blalock international fame and paved the way for open-heart surgery. But the technique had been painstakingly developed by Vivien Thomas, Blalock’s African American lab assistant, who stood behind Blalock in the operating room to give him step-by-step instructions.

The stories of this medical and social breakthrough and the lives of Thomas, Blalock, and their colleague Dr. Helen Taussig are intertwined in this compelling nonfiction narrative.

STARRED REVIEW FROM SCHOOL LIBRARY JOURNAL

“Murphy’s dramatic nonfiction narrative recounting of one of the first open heart surgeries ever performed is not to be missed...”

STARRED REVIEW FROM PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

“Murphy masterfully interweaves discussions of discrimination, the controversy over animal testing, and the background of each protagonist into the main narrative, building tension as he leads up to the surgery itself.”

Middle Grade – Contemporar / Realistic / Coming-of-age / Humor

Max is a good kid floating in the netherworld of being not quite a teenager. A summertime interlude at a family camp allows him to re-invent himself for a week as Mad Max, a much wilder kid; he's experimenting, trying on a new persona. By the end of the week he's grown, all right, but not in a direction he's entirely comfortable with, and he has to decide which parts of Mad Max to keep – which are really him – and which to discard. The book is narrated by Max, who, in his storytelling, tends to go off on tangents, many of which are rendered in 138 fun, funny, and oddball footnotes.
