SI YO ME PIERDO (IF I GET LOST)

The novel about the 98 happiest and unknown days of Federico García Lorca's life in the golden Cuba of 1930

Federico García Lorca disembarked in Cuba from New York in March 1930, invited to stay for a week. But it was more than three months before the Andalusian poet decided to return to Spain, intoxicated by Caribbean music and beauty, soneros and santeros, terraces and palm trees, white rum, sensuality and Malecon nights.

What did the poet do in "the happiest days of his life", as he defined his Cuban days? How did Cuba tinge Federico's work, his person and his destiny? "If I get lost," he warned his parents in a letter, "they should look for me in Cuba."

Key selling points

- Victor Amela has a delightful prose that allows him to depict the happiest days of the mythical poet Lorca with a fast-paced and highly engaging story.
- One of the most thoroughly researched accounts of Lorca's life, from one of the best researchers of Lorca.

Victor Amela (Barcelona, 1960) is a journalist and novelist. Co-creator of "La Contra" of La Vanguardia, he has published 3,000 interviews in the last twenty-five years. He is the author of a dozen books on journalism and four novels: El Cátaro imperfecto (2013), Amor contra Roma (2014), La hija del capitán Groc (Ramon Llull Award 2016) and Yo pude salvar a Lorca (2018). His love for Federico García Lorca has led him to explore the poet's vital epiphany in 1930's Cuba, and the result is his fifth novel: Si yo me pierdo (2022).

TU VOZ INVISIBLE (YOUR INVISIBLE VOICE)

In a hauntingly familiar country, Argentine reporter Clara Guinzburg returns to Spain to interview a famous writer. However, it will be a first step to uncover the brutal truth hidden in her childhood, and behind her mother's death 30 years earlier

Argentine journalist Clara Guinzburg returns to Spain to interview Nora Rizzo, an internationally successful writer, although her journey is overshadowed by the discovery of a family secret that is the perfect script for the novel she dreams of writing.

Her mother, who died 30 years ago when she was barely three years old, left an enigmatic folder that the journalist discovers by chance where she had lived as a child: In the summer of 1988 her mother had a romantic relationship with a man who would end her daughter's life before committing suicide. Clara is not only surprised by this revelation, but also that her mother died shortly after that crime in the same Valencian town where that tragedy happened.

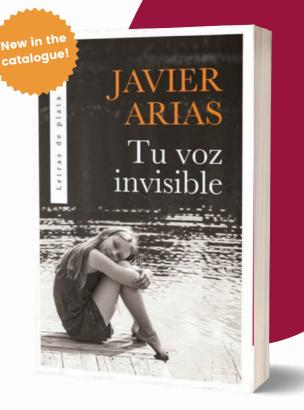

Clara Guinzburg wants to fit the puzzle of an unknown past and, at the same time, write her first novel. However, his attempt to reveal that enigma will open Pandora's box: someone is not willing to return that past with all its silences.

Key selling points

- In a country close, but at the same time unknown to the protagonist, Javier Arias masterfully depicts a Valencian small town becoming the perfect environment for a brutal thriller, where the most terrible truth shall be revealed, but not without consequences.
- Following the thread of mystery, the reader will find a novel that will encircle and corner him, turning this work into a real turnpager!
- Javier Arias offers a fanastic depiction on the intrigue, and even the obsession on finding the truth behind the lack of a mother: an authentic personal seal of his works that perfectly executes.

Javier Arias Artacho was born in 1972 in Barcelona, although he grew up in Argentina, a country to which he has emotional and family ties. He has a degree in Hispanic Philology and a Diploma in Religious Sciences. He works as a teacher in secondary and high school, and as an article writer in the media. He is married, has three daughters and lives in Valencia. His career as a writer has earned him the respect of critics and readers. In the field of education, his books with a strong social background, such as Náufragos or Solo donde estés tú, stand out. However, his best-known novels are Eitana, La esclava judía, El general maldito, La tierra del viento and his latest work, Nadie sabrá de mí, which received exceptional reviews.

LIBELO DE SANGRE (LIBEL OF BLOOD)

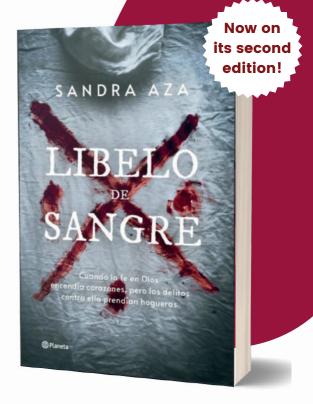

A heart-skipping race against time to save his parents from the Inquisition, and to solve the murder that has horrified Madrid

In the harsh winter of 1620 an horrific crime propagates panic through all corners of Madrid: a young woman has been raped and buried together with a heart-extirped baby.

No one doubts it has been a ritual crime, and soon appears a "libel of blood" against the scribe Sebastián Castro and his wife Margarita, a false accusation that blames Jews for sacrificing Christian kids in the elaboration of black magic rituals.

Luckily Alonso, their oldest son, has been able to escape the jaws of the Inquisition, in charge of the murders' investigation, but now has to face other terrible dangers: the cold, the hunger and the wretched of the streets.

Hopeless, and with no other help than two beggars, Alonso will try to make true his only objective: save his fathers.

Key selling points

- Being a member of the Escritores con la Historia association (Writers for History), Aza spent a long and conscious period documentating before writing Libelo de Sangre.
- A must-read for historical novel enjoyers, with a fantastic depiction of the society and prejudices of seventeenthcentury Madrid.
- A close portrait of the Spanish Inquisition, one of the most infamous institutions in history.
- A desperate race against time that will hook the reader up until the very end.

Sandra Aza is a lawyer and she practiced law for years before taking new directions that took her steps away from the courts.

Passionate about history and its stories, she dedicated the suns to writing legal briefs and the moons to cherishing a dream: to change and turn to literature. One day the heart overthrew the reason; she hung up her toga, dressed herself in illusion and she entered the world of the muses.

MARÍA BARBAL FARRÉ

The most influential writer in contemporary Catalan literature

Maria Barbal (Tremp, 1949) became known with the novel Pedra de tartera (Joaquim Ruyra 1984 and Joan Crexells 1985 awards), a milestone in contemporary Catalan narrative. This book opens a novelistic cycle with the author's native Pallars as a point of reference, which also includes Cánfora (Critics' Prize 1992, Critics' Prize Serra d'Or 1993 and National Literature Prize 1993), and many other works up until 2019. Her work as a novelist has been widely recognized with the Josep Pla award (Tàndem, Destino 2021) and the Prize of Honor of the Catalan Letters for her literary career.

TOTS ELS CONTES (ALL THE TALES)

The short narrative of an author who has stood above all Catalan literature

The present volume brings together the short stories written by Maria Barbal so far, compiled from published volumes, scattered in periodicals, in thematic anthologies, and unpublished stories.

A conscious effort has been made to offer the reader a full picture of Barbal's rich literature and its evolution through her life. In fact, the fast rhythm, and the possibility to enjoy the narrative at your own pace without fear of losing context make this book a perfect choice for all those who have never had the chance to discover Barbal. Or simply to those who want a more relaxed and excellent second lecture.

Barbal's voice is always powerful, largely thanks to a precise, soft, and rich language, which enters swiftly. Her style, made of brevity and clarity, denotes a great expertise, managing to capture the essence and soul of everything she proposes.

TÀNDEM (TANDEM)

A sight on the endearing love story between a widowed man and a married woman, and the emotional journey they will embark together.

From the moment they meet, Elena and Armand will try to get rid of everything that traps them and retireve the spontaneity and joy that we only feel when we inhabit the present. They will realize that they have the right to change, to see the world differently from the way they have seen it for years, to love themselves. In short, to give themselves the freedom to live fully. Tàndem is not a story about the happiness that promises us a wonderful journey, not even the one we experience when we hear an "I love you", but the one that encourages us to pedal together and enjoy the journey to reach a deeper and more lasting happiness. A delightful novel that explores the human capacity to rethink one's existence and invites us to banish monotony and let ourselves be carried away by what life has in store for us.

• A delightful portrait of a love that runs from monotony, and opens room to the joy of pedaling together.

PEDRA DE TARTERA (STONE IN A LANDSLIDE)

One of the greatest classics of Catalan literature, that pictures the life of Conxa, a woman of humble origins through Spain's most turbulent times

Conxa is born at the beginning of the twentieth century in Ermita's village, in Pallars region. When she's 13 years old, she's sent to Pallarès's village to help her aunt Encarnació. There she meets young Jaume, with whom she falls head over heels in love in a dance of the village's fair. Although Conxa's aunt and uncle are against her marriage with Jaume because he's from a poor family, they finally agree. Once they're married, the boy helps Encarnació's family in the fields, with whom the married couple lives. Later in life, Conxa has two daughters and a son. As they grow up, the children see her as an older sister, while the maternal authority comes from Encarnació.

JUEGO DE SILENCIOS (GAME OF SILENCES)

Unlikely suspects, hidden desires, and forbidden loves in a disturbing criminal investigation

Virginia Gibert, a renowned prosecutor, feels that, at the age of thirty-something, life is slipping through her fingers. She has a job she loves, a perfect husband, Diego, and no desire to be a mother, although she hasn't yet dared tell him that. It's not that they are in crisis, but she suspects that there must be something else to life.

One night, she gets home late and discovers Diego in bed with Fernando, their best friend. They are half-naked and appear to be asleep, but her husband is dead.

The judge in charge of the case is Mario Laredo, who was Virginia's first boyfriend and who has returned to her life with the clear intention of recovering what they had.

A dead husband, a close friend as the main suspect, an exboyfriend in charge of the investigation and a prosecutor with personal interests in the case.

Key selling points

- The author is a lawyer herself, so she brings a particular sensitivity and experience to the unputdownable plot.

LA VIDA EN UNA TAZA DE TÉ (LIFE IN A CUP OF TEA)

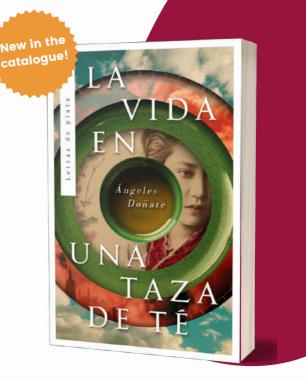

Three lives, in appearance totally unrelated, are held together by a jade-green teapot that hides a great history

There are those who claim that objects have souls. That their existence, so different from human beings, guided by use and silence, often marks us in an irreversible way. They accompany us for a lifetime, beautifying our days, reminding us of important moments and people. And that sometimes even objects are meant to join despite distances.

The lives of Sakura, Karen and Maria run parallel paths. They seem to have nothing in common and yet their lives are held together by a fragile but indestructible thread: the daily presence of a jade-green teapot with old golden gray hair. An object that, far from being insignificant, carries a history that is woven with the of all the hands that goes through. A story that will mark the existence of these three women, giving them support in the good and bad moments, pieces of feelings and beauty with which to illuminate their steps, the necessary strength to reach their destinies. The same way the teapot travels to reach its own.

EL INVIERNO QUE TOMAMOS CARTAS EN EL ASUNTO

Ángeles Doñate was born in Barcelona. She was the first of five siblings and grew up in a house full of light, foster pets and books. She was a girl who, at barely 8 years old, hid under the sheets with a lantern to read, and decided to study Journalism. Her passion for written and spoken words became a vocation as much as a profession. She works as a corporate communications manager for social and educational institutions. For years, she has been giving back some of her luck by teaching adults to read and write.

EL ÚLTIMO VAGÓN (THE LAST WAGON)

A tribute to those teachers who have such an impact on their students' lives, that are forever remembered

Ikal is II years old, the son of a railway worker and dreams of becoming a teacher. He admires Chico, counts the trains that pass by with Tuerto, dreams of Valeria, a peasant woman, and lives a thousand adventures with Quetzal, his dog. They are all Don Ernesto's students, in the Malinalli Teneplat school-wagon, during the course in which all of their lives will take a turn. Among fields of fruit trees and old wagons, thirty students will rediscover life thanks to the passion of a teacher who has united his fate with that of his students.

A black and white photo of them all, which sleeps in a forgotten file of the Secretariat of Education, will become years later the worst nightmare of Hugo Valenzuela, a brilliant inspector. Don Ernesto, old and almost blind, must retire. He asks for a replacement, but some politicians consider school-wagons to be old-fashioned and useless. Useless? Hugo is not so convinced and decides to pull the thread. He'll rediscover his past, risk his future, and discover that there are traces that cannot be erased. Like those of the first love or those of a teacher who, through curiosity and affection, opens the windows to the world.

AMOR SENSE MÓN (LOVE BEYOND WORLD)

The unknown and fascinating love story between Hannah Arendt and Martin Heidegger

Martin Heidegger and Hannah Arendt met in 1925 at Marburg University. He was a teacher and she was his pupil. He was married and she was single. She was eighteen years old, and he was thirty-five. At this point starts Amor sense món, an extraordinary novel about the relationship they maintained throughout all their lives facing all obstacles.

Narrated in an exciting, though delicate way, this novel follows the romance between two of the greatest figures of European Philosophy. How could a Jewish intellectual and a highly prestigious teacher who joined Hitler's party share love together? This is one of the most complex, passionate, contradictory, and incredible love story of the last century, becoming an example of a philosophical and spiritual love that goes through earthly bonds: a love beyond world.

¿PARA QUÉ HE VENIDO A ESTE MUNDO? (WHY DID I COME TO THIS WORLD?) ☆

Find your hidden talent and the meaning of life through a magnificent journey

Izan lives in the house of parents who despise him and do not believe that he has any capacity. On his fourteenth birthday, he is announced that he will no longer be in school and will start working in the village mine, like all his ancestors.

The night before his assignment, a shooting star leads him to a cabin on the outskirts of town. There awaits an old shaman whom he has heard about in local myths. She will teach him the strength of the Infinite, which invites him to follow his own course. That very morning, Izan set out to answer a vital question: Why did I come to this world?

After long hours on the road, his second encounter will be on a beach, where an eccentric painter is trying to capture the dawn. In addition to offering breakfast, he will teach him the power of Ellipse, the ability of every human, being to create and imagine what you want.

Throughout your adventure you will meet seven more types of talents that will be incorporated into your life to answer the Big Question.

His nine learnings on the art of living with meaning will allow him to return to his village where, in addition to forgiving his parents, he will show others the ways of human genius.

Izan will decide to be a miner, but of the talent hidden in the depths of each person.

ENS RECORDARAN (THEY WILL REMEMBER US)

Discover the incredible story that two of the greatest authors in history shared together

Goethe and Schiller were close friends. But what nourished their friendship?

Ens recordaran takes the reader back to the summer that Goethe and Schiller spent together in 1794. Those days that were to be crucial not only for their work, but also for their personal relationship. This book is, above all, the story of a friendship, of the man behind the myth, of his illusions and his sorrows, of his deepest longings and his most unspeakable fears. This book is the story of two of the most influential authors of European literature, always sheltered by the women in their lives, often the only points of light in an existence that shaded to absolute darkness.

As happens in a symphony, the multiple voices and the plots that intertwine in time form a perfect mirror-play between men and women, between past and present, which leads to an intimate reflection that speaks to us about the close relationship between life and love.

EL GRAN BARÍTON (THE GREAT BARITONE)

A history of adventures, espionage and revolution between Barcelona and Latin America in the 1950s, based on the real history of the "Cañón Catalán", the great baritone of Sant Andreu who triumphed in Spain and the States singing zarzuelas.

Joan Gual is very clear that he does not want to die in an absurd war and decides to defect. Here begins the adventure of a man who, from a young age, wants to pursue his dream and exploit his talent, a unique voice that, out of war, leads him to become a baritone of world fame. But when he is on tour in Latin America he is, unwittingly, involved in an espionage and counter-intelligence plot that will put him to the test, including in the emotional field. Surrounded by guerrillas, Mafias, extravagant folks, exiled Nazis, rojos who have fled Franco and personalities such as Kubala, Pau Casals or General Castro himself, Joan Gual will be forced to overcome himself and overcome his fate to become a brave and just man.

PASIÓN IMPERFECTA (IMPERFECT PASSION)

Did you know that who invented WiFi was a woman named Hedy Lamarr?

Friedrich Mandi is a young Austrian who takes over his father's arms factory. He manages to amass one of the largest fortunes on the planet, thanks to customers including Mussolini, Hitler and Franco. Mandi is rich, eccentric, powerful, a womanizer and astute.

When in 1933 he sees the film Ecstasy, where actress Hedy Lamarr plays the first-ever female nude and the first orgasm on the big screen, Mandi becomes obsessed with her. And he doesn't stop until he gets her hand in marriage, against her will.

Hedy is a beautiful and gifted young woman, an engineering student with a healthy romantic life. Fritz locks her up in his Salzburg castle where he holds events with politicians, businessmen and judges, and forces Hedy to attend all of them. She reluctantly consents and takes advantage to sell the patents of her inventions. However, what will make her truly rich is her career in cinema.

From 1937, when she escapes from her relationship with Mandi, she triumphs as an actress in Hollywood and continues to pursue her vocation as an inventor, becoming a forerunner in communications.

LA MADRINA DE GUERRA (THE WAR GODMOTHER)

Can a love letter change a life or stop a war?

Madrid, 1936. Aurora has just come of age and works as a nurse in a troubled city that resists the fire and bombs of the war. In this climate of violence, she decides to contribute to hope on the Republican front and begins to correspond with a young soldier, Teófilo, thus becoming – like many other women of the time – a war godmother.

In each letter, the young men will find a refuge in which to express the fears and secrets they cannot say aloud while discovering a love they never imagined. However, in a war full of intrigue and espionage, where everyone is a suspect, the written word can be the most dangerous weapon...

When years later, isolated in the silence of the post-war period, Teófilo finds out that Aurora is still alive, he does not hesitate to try to recover the person who, amidst the fire and gunpowder, made love, calm and peace blossom in him.

Key selling points

- After his successful debut with La vida en un minuto, in this moving novel José Antonio Lucero discovers the valuable figure of the war godmothers and their forgotten role in the Civil War.
- This story is a tribute to all those women who took the word as a rifle and managed to grow in the line of fire the strength and hope of the soldiers.

COWORKING

Miralles return to fiction, filled with great doses of humor and originality

An old factory on Carrer del Planeta, in the heart of Gràcia, houses a coworking space with a unique fauna.

Uwe is the only son of a German industrialist who has given him "a year of grace" to live the bohemian life before taking over the family business. Maurici never stops designing new and improbable businesses that are always "on the verge" of success. Vilma is a photographer with mysterious habits, like sleeping inside the coworking space or disappearing on a secret beach. Gus is a digital nomad and works as an online course developer, accompanied by an army of Star Wars figurines. Beatriz works as a psychologist and is the only one with a separate, glass-walled office so that no one can hear her online therapy sessions. Frank is the oldest in the coworking space, but no one knows for sure what he does there. Many days he seems to just observe. Alma lives in a silence that hides more than one type of pain.

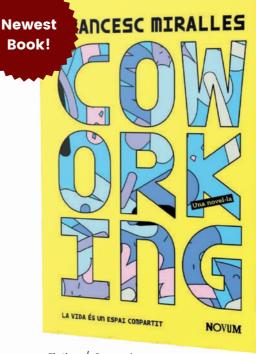

Within the walls of the old warehouse arise crazy ideas and fleeting loves, impossible businesses and enigmas that float over this office of dreams.

EL VINO DEL ALQUIMISTA (THE WINE OF THE ALQUIMIST)

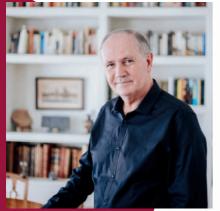

A world-wide adventure to recover a lost relic: the wine that grants to those who drink it an existential knowledge unprecedented for humanity

Víctor Morell, a sommelier in low hours, receives from an anonymous emissary an unusual mission: to find a unique bottle, known among the initiates as the wine of the alchemist. Disappeared almost two centuries ago, the writings of the time assure that this wine grants to those who drink it an existential knowledge unprecedented for humanity. Victor embarks on an uncertain and dangerous journey that will take him from the vineyards of the Catalonia to the remote landscapes of Turkestan, passing through Paris, Saint Petersburg or the hills of Tuscany.

But he'll soon realize he's not the only one chasing the relic. While competing with Sofia, a neuropsychiatrist convinced that the properties of wine alter the conscience of those who drink it, powerful pharmacists, business emporiums and esoteric organizations step on their heels in a relentless race to get hold of it. But who among them will be able to unravel the secrets of the alchemist's wine? And what price will he have to pay for it?

- Being Pepe Müllher's debut, he offers a thrilling adventure in order to protect humanity from mischievous interests. This same pattern can be found in the great classical adventure's films, like Indiana Jones (a relic that can change the fate of humanity forever, and a frenetic race against an evil corporative enemy), catching more than the lovers of the genre!
- A detailed close-up on the secret societies that have moulded our society, focused on the wine's ones, a product well known and appreciated across the world.

From a German father and a Catalan mother, Pepe Müller grew up in Barcelona and, after being educated at the German College, graduated in Chemical Engineering, which led him to manage several companies in the sector and allowed him to travel to almost eighty countries.

His first opera, El vino del alquimista, combines his literary passion with his great passion for oenology.

Y QUE NADIE SEPA NADA (And Let Nobody Find Out)

In this new and refreshing Spanish-style LGTBQ+ romcom, Alberto will find himself having to choose between his love life and a promising career

"When I was accepted into the studio of Marco Mancini, the most sought-after architect in Madrid, I knew I had just come across a once-in-alifetime opportunity. Given the chance to demonstrate your talent and impress someone you admire so much, what would be more unforgivable: not to take the plunge... or to do it with all the consequences?

What I couldn't even dream of was that my interest in Marco would be reciprocated, and that it would turn into an attraction that would test us and plunge us into the best summer of our lives. One marked by new experiences, lies that change everything and, above all, by an exciting tug-of-war that is pushing us to the limit."

Key selling points

- Overflowing with humor and erotism, Y que Nadie Sepa Nada easily hooks the reader with its fresh plot.
- Finally a conflict that goes beyond coming out of the closet!
- Written in a close, friendly tone, in first person, combining stories of friendship and fun side plots.
- Being a genre on the rise, there is still a lot of room for new LGTBQ+ authors to break through with stories like this one.

EL VALLE DEL HIERRO (THE IRON VALLEY)

In the 16th century, mysterious disappearances cast fear on the valley's inhabitants, coinciding with ancient guild rivalries

On a rainy night in 1577, the coal man Domingo Harria left his farmhouse for the Mirandaola ironworks, where its owners, the Plazaola, are waiting for him. Asencia, his wife, discovers the next morning that Domingo has not returned home, and gives the alarm. It is not the first time that someone disappears in the valley; it will not be the last.

After several days without news, Asencia goes to the ironworks looking for some clue about the whereabouts of her husband, but, although they assure her that Domingo never attended the appointment, she is convinced that the Plazaola lie. Their guild has never been reliable.

Years later, when the whole valley seems to have forgotten Domingo, except for Asencia, Jurdana appears in her life: A young woman of unknown origin who not only keeps a great secret, but flees from a past that, sooner or later, she will have to face. She just hopes she doesn't have to do it alone.

Key selling points

- El Valle del Hierro is a fast-paced historical thriller imbued with drama, love and mystery, set in the rural life and the world of artisan crafts, from which the industrial origin of the Basque Country comes: it is a development in parallel with many other parts of Europe, and that will end with the recognition of the Basque steel industry as the best in the world during the industrial revolution.
- An ancient and rural setting is the perfect for a good mystery story!
- A novel with female protagonists, empowered matriarchs, tough and brave, who want to control their own destiny, even when it seems impossible.
- Since Ane Odriozola comes from the world of self-publishing, she is self-made author and a safe bet for publishers when it comes to seduce the reader.

VLADIVOSTOK

Vladivostok, a Russian city in the Far East of Asia, The place where Tomás and Magda were supposed to go with their motorhome before she died of cancer in this touching story

Before she died, Tomás' wife Magda planned a trip to Vladivostok with him. Two years later, having overcome the most intense pain, he tries to find meaning in his daily life as a widower and retiree: he reads the books she left behind, rides his bicycle around the hills of his housing estate and meets his best friend, who insists on finding him a new partner. But the summer will change completely with the arrival of a new neighbor and her son, and this will make Tomás rethink what to do with the last years of his life.

With a brutally honest tone, Lluís Oliván makes a portrait of a bittersweet old age and of a life full of contradictions and moments of vitality, and shows us that as long as we continue to walk the path we can affirm that we are still alive.

EL TIEMPO QUE NOS UNE (THE TIME THAT BENDS US)

A tremendous storytelling on the lives of five women

Grandma Mencia convalesces with her granddaughter, Bea, who does not want to tell what really hurts her. This is the beginning of The Time That Bends Us, a choral novel of female voices, a saga of women with hearts so great that they are capable of harbouring from the deepest love to the greatest suffering. Among the five protagonists of the story, family ties intertwine to form a network that sometimes traps, others embrace and, above all, protects. Mencia, the wise and dishevelled matriarch; Lía, who always stays; Flavia, who lives in absence; Inés, a mother who suffers and lover who laments; and Bea, the youngest, are unforgettable characters, who keep secrets but shout truths, and who feel and laugh and cry.

With delicacy and precision in language, Alejandro Palomas builds a feminine universe of relationships and emotions that surrounds the reader. In The Time That Bends Us, as in life, many things happen, but in the end what matters is who has been sailing by your side.

UN PERRO (A DOG)

An explosive and touching story where Alejandro Palomas recovers the characters we first met, and those we fell in love with, in A mother.

Sitting in a cafeteria one early summer afternoon, Fer and his mother, Amalia, wait for a call that does not arrive. During the following hours, Fer will do his best to hide what is hidden behind that dreaded call that can shatter the calm that has settled in the family since, being just a puppy, R came into his life. But perhaps this calm is more precarious than it seems. When the phone finally rings, the night will bring with it an unexpected company, and with it will come a torrent of confessions, truths that perhaps were not so much and the five letters of a name that, pulling the family album, Fer must dare to invoke so that life will once again show him and his people his best version.

A dog is not only the portrait of the fascinating bond between a man and his dog, but also a swirl of emotions in which a tender and raw look at the family universe and a tribute to love in all its manifestations converge.

UNA MADRE (A MOTHER)

A zany yet deeply touching family comedy, reminiscent of Almodóvar

Una madre tells the story of a dinner, and of the seven attendants who are bound to share the beginnings of a new life none of them are envisioning. With her sense of humor and determination, Amalia weaves a net of invisible threads around the table meant to unite and protect her family.

She mends the silences of some, while she channels the present and future of others. She knows that this is going to be a long night: full of secrets and lies, of laughter and crossed fire, and of words held back for too long which will finally explode to enlighten the way to go. She knows this is the time to take action, and she is not willing to let anything get in her way.

Una madre is not just the portrait of a woman who decided to take the hardest path at a certain time, even though she has been rewarded with the power to look after her children like she never expected she would need to; this is also an intimation of what the human race is capable of proving to itself when its best side comes to the surface.

LA IMPORTANCIA DE TU NOMBRE (THE IMPORTANCE OF YOUR NAME)

A disturbing thriller with a brutal premise: the life of a renowned therapist explodes when she is caught in a stranger's dark psychological game

Elena Maldonado, a prestigious psychologist in the Salamanca neighborhood, receives a message in which someone assures her that one of her patients is going to be murdered and that she will have to decide which one and how he should die. At first, it seems like a bad joke, but she will soon discover that her anonymous puppeteer knows all her secrets and that, if she does not follow the rules of the game, her daughter will be in grave danger.

The good news is that Elena knows how people's minds work. The bad news is that her stalker's cruelty seems to be totally inhuman. Who is he and why does he hate her so much? How long has he been stalking her? Is she unknowingly sharing her day-to-day life with a sadistic killer?

LA PASSADORA (THE RESCUER)

A girl from a little village in the Pyrenees becomes a fugitive from the Nazi regime and falls in love with her greatest enemy, a German lieutenant stationed on the Andorran border.

A girl from a village in the Pyrenees called Sol is forced to flee to Andorra, where she will join an escape network. Its members are dedicated to guiding Jews and Allied pilots fleeing the Nazis from France to Spain. Little by little she became involved in the actions of this group and in the course of her travels she served as courier for important documents for the British consulate in Barcelona.

In one of her trips she will meet Max, and they will fall in love without knowing that she is actually a sergeant of the Werhmacht. The moment she finds out, she will be trapped in a strong moral dilemma.

When the brother of Sol is imprisoned by the Gestapo, she asks for Max's help and he promises to save him, but soon after making the promise, the Nazis surround the network's operations center. Has Max actually betrayed her?

Key selling points

- A brave exercise of historical memory that highlights the hidden escapade of hundreds, if not thousands of persecuted who went through the harsh and mountainous passages of the Pyrenees to flee from Nazi regime's claws: a story well-known by the locals, but almost forgotten by the rest of the world.
- Perearnau masterfully resorts to one of the great themes of romance: forbidden love, in this case between an opponent of the Nazi regime and an officer of the Wehrmacht. Playing with illusions and constant tension, LA PASSADORA contains a magnificent element of suspense that makes it an authentic turn-pager.

MANUAL DE SUPERVIVÈNCIA D'UNA DONA SOLTERA (SURVIVAL MANUAL FOR A SINGLE WOMAN)

Depressive, histrionic, hyperactive, or sex addicted, these are some of the depictions of the boys the protagonist will meet to fix her life in this feminine and feminist comedy

Survival Manual is a feminine and feminist comedy about being a single woman today. A realistic overview of the dating world that makes you laugh out loud, clearly depicting the types of relations that you can expect and the types of men (and women) that one can find in the loving jungle of the 21st century.

The protagonist had very clear that she doesn't want to marry. She had a couple for ten years and she was happy living in their home. But the day that her partner demands marriage and she refuses, the relationship is over. It's just the night before New Year's Eve and she intends to find a new partner before a year passes. Going through all the phases of mourning after a traumatic breakup, she will go through all possible candidates and anecdotes, all inspired by real events.

LA LLAVE DE LAS ESTRELLAS (THE KEY TO THE STARS)

Two vibrant and luminous stories that intertwine, full of love, sex, friendship, humor, uprooting and motherhood

In 2012, at the height of the Greek crisis, young Rebeca Benveniste is left all alone and on the verge of eviction. Her beloved nona, her grandmother, has passed away, and with her studies in Hispanic Philology she is unable to find a job to support herself. So she decides to travel to the small village of Alpartazgo, in the province of Zaragoza, where her Sephardic ancestors came from more than five hundred years ago. Among his meager luggage he carries the key that has been passed down from generation to generation and that probably opens the door of the house that his family had to abandon.

At the end of the 15th century, Vida Benveniste, the daughter of the butcher of the Jewish quarter of Alpartazgo, befriends Leonor de Lanuza, a member of the most powerful local noble family. Both are intrepid and intelligent and do not accept the limitations that mark them professing different religions. Their lives will inevitably follow very different paths, but their friendship, marked by deep feelings, will always prevail over creeds and social impositions.

LOS CRÍMENES DE HAMLET

Malenka Ramos was born in Oviedo, where she currently lives. She began writing mystery and horror novels at a very young age. She became known for her erotic trilogy Venganza, whose first novel was published in print after having more than a million readers online. She is currently fully focused on the mystery and horror genre, with works such as Lo que habita dentro, La figura de arcilla, and El que susurra, winner, along with two other novels, of the Tabook's competition at the Sitges Horror Festival 2019. The murderer of the Noh Mask is her latest novel.

- Ramos is able to create an exciting crime story around a Japanese folk element. This is a very shocking contrast when murders occur in the antipodes of Japan, hooking the reader until the whole truth is revealed.
- The protagonist, Inspector Andreu Martí, is much more than a mere witness of the police investigation: he will suffer in first person a constant stalking by the killer, creating a dense climate of tension that make the readers immediatly fall in love with this book.
- Ramos reached the NUMBER 1 SPOT ON AMAZON THE WEEK OF THE 20th OF MARCH OF 2023 with her book LOS CRÍMENES DE HAMLET, and has been published in Spain, Portugal, Brazil and Russia.

MEJOR MUERTO (BETTER DEAD)

The comeback of inspector Marcela Pieldelobo, embarked on a time-trial investigation where everyone lies and no one seems to be in a hurry to find an eminent kidnapped businessman

Francisco Sarasola, an important real estate developer in Pamplona, has disappeared without a trace. Hours after the complaint, the family receives a message in which the businessman can be seen badly injured on the ground. They demand a million euros in exchange for their life. A few days later, the deputy director of the company vanishes and the young lover of the businessman is found dead in the toilets of the train station.

Sarasola is a difficult man, accustomed to doing his will without worrying about the consequences of his actions. During the investigation, Pieldelobo finds a family little distressed: a son eager to take the reins of the company; another weak, controlled by his young wife, and a third who is just a scared boy. The first wife openly hates him, and the second, devoted to tarot, fears him and tries to please him to avoid his anger. Blackmail and extortion, threats and violence, deep-rooted hatreds that suffocate them and prevent them from moving forward. The Sarasola family knows that their obligation is to collaborate in the search for Francis, but it is so easy to live without him

EN LA SANGRE (IN THE BLOOD)

From the author of the series Sin retorno, which has sold more than 80K copies in Spain, rights sold to Italy and Portugal, and is currently being adapted to the screen

Inspector Pieldelobo is still in the crosshairs of her superiors at the Pamplona police station after irregularities committed in the resolution of a triple murder case related to a powerful Opus Dei family.

A National Police operation against drug trafficking with infiltrated agents becomes complicated when the young Elur Amézaga is found murdered in Bera, a small town in Navarra very close to France. Elur is a police informer and girlfriend of a prominent local leader of the Basque nationalist party, and everything points to Inspector Fernando Ribas, Pieldelobo's friend (as well as her lover and mentor when she joined the force more than ten years ago), as the culprit, but she refuses to believe that Ribas, for all his faults, was also a corrupt policeman.

Determined to clear up what happened, Inspector Pieldelobo ignores both the anonymous blackmail and the indications of the police, who insist on closing the case as soon as possible, and the threats of the Abertzale environment, which does not want to be involved in a case related to drugs. Once again, she will follow her instinct and start a dangerous investigation against the clock that will put her life in danger in the foggy lands of the muga between France and Navarre.

Key selling points

- The beloved, rough, unyielding character of Marcela Pieldelobo is back, long awaited by readers.
- Already on its second printing a month after publication!

BAJO LA PIEL (BENEATH THE SKIN)

An unconventional inspector who is ready to break the rules in order to save the day

Inspector Marcela Pieldelobo is difficult to deal with. She is convinced that orders can be interpreted, and closed doors can be unlocked if one knows how to.

Her past strikes through the appearance of her abusive father after her mom's passing. But she has bigger fish to fry, like the case of an abandoned baby in a solitary parking lot and a crashed car full of bloodstains whose driver has vanished.

When all the threads lead to a company owned by one of the most influential families in the region, her superiors take her off the case... But following her principles and instincts, Marcela is determined to go further, even at the expense of her life.

LA CIUDAD DE LOS MUCHACHOS (THE BOY'S TOWN)

During Franco's dictatorship, La Ciudad de los Muchachos ("The Boys' Town") was put in place to house and educate the children orphaned by the Spanish Civil War.

During Franco's dictatorship, La Ciudad de los Muchachos ("The Boys' Town") was put in place to house and educate the children orphaned by the Spanish Civil War.

It was intended as a revolutionary educational project, just like the original one that inspired the Hollywood film, but Franco's dictatorship turned it into a nightmarish orphanage.

Teresa Roig has carefully examined the lasting footprint of this unfortunate project, and now brings us a touching and alarmingly relevant novel. It is based on the testimony of those who lived in the Ciudad de los Muchachos during different years spanning the two decades that the facility ran its program, and on the documentation left behind on this and similar orphanages.

Currently, she combines it with motherhood and activism. She is the author of Pa amb xocolata, El primer dia de les nostres vides, and El arquitecto de sueños, among other novels. She has been awarded several literary prizes such as El Setè Cel or Roc Boronat. La ciudad de los muchachos is her latest novel.

LA DONCELLA GUERRERA (THE WARRIOR MAIDEN)

The exciting story of Juana de Arintero, the first female warrior and soldier of Spain

1475, Arintero. Barely a month had passed since the death of Henry IV when, one Sunday in January, the men were called to war. The throne was disputed between his only daughter and the future Catholic Monarchs, Isabella and Ferdinand, and the lands of Castille became the battlefield that would forever change the destiny of the kingdom.

On that Sunday, when the Count of Arintero received the news, his health no longer allowed him to fight. However, his youngest daughter, Juana, decided to represent her family in battle and embark on an epic adventure, full of intrigue and passion, in which she will have to fight for the crown and avoid being discovered at all costs.

In this novel, based on the old stories from León, Teresa Sagrera tells us the story of a fighter and warrior who had to hide under armor to save her kingdom, honoring her family and becoming a legend.

Key selling points

LA NIT DE DAMBALLAH (THE NIGHT OF DAMBALLAH)

A bone-chilling thriller by one of the best voices in the Spanish literary scene

Early morning, Barcelona's Zona Franca. On Lluís Artigas' patrol car radio sounds a 10-50: "Someone has been killed". The victim is a young Nigerian girl brutally murdered following what turns out to be a voodoo ritual. Artigas, a burned-out agent under suspicion of being corrupt, undertakes an unexpected search for those responsible for this crime. His only ally is Mónica Vidal, a journalist who will do anything for a story, and who is also besieged by her own demons.

La Nit de Damballah is a masterfully written novel, with a furious pace, the narrative pulse of crime classics, an ironic tone and a cynical, always incisive voice. Jordi Solé shows us a little-known, greasy side of Barcelona, where often-unnoticed characters roam. The most compelling is the protagonist, Artigas, a policeman called to become a mythical antihero.

NEKO CAFÉ

You don't need nine lives to be happy. If you live right, just one is enough

Nagore's life has been going downhill: she broke up with her partner and was sacked from her job. She can't even afford to pay her rent— but just as she is about to lose her flat, an old friend finds her an unusual job: waitressing at the Neko Café, a café where seven cats hope to find an owner among the clients who come in to spend the afternoon.

Nursing a childhood fear of cats, Nagore immediately declines. But soon, desperation drives her to sign a month-long trial contract.

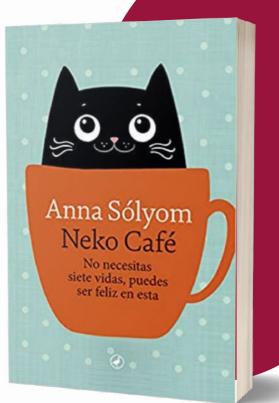

What promises to be nothing but chaos at the beginning becomes a transforming experience after the first few days. Each one of the seven inhabitants of the Neko Café ("neko" meaning "cat" in Japanese) presents her with a key to the art of living, until it begins to turn her life around.

Along with the main character, you will discover there is a lot we can learn about cats, such as serenity, concentration, flexibility, and authenticity of heart.

The ultimate comfort book, a cozy and cute story that will warm your heart like a cup of coffee on a cold winter morning. It will make you purr with joy!

EL LLEGAT DE LES CENDRES (THE LEGACY OF ASHES)

Set in medieval Barcelona, this is the story of those who dare to dream of a better world

"El llegat de les cendres" is a story of struggle and of women who show us that some things are indestructible.

In the mid-14th century, Barcelona is still suffering the aftermath of The Plague. During this period of uncertainty, a group of women fight against the imposition of Roman Law, a major step backwards from the laws that governed their ancestors.

Facing a harsh situation, they will start the Workers' House, a project aimed to promote new initiatives based on the abilities of each individual. Everyone will have a place and will learn and teach at the same time, joining forces to light a new fire that will once again illuminate the city.

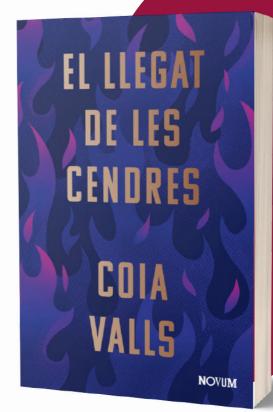

A fire that enlightens, but it also burns and leaves ashes. And ashes contain the memory of those who have been there and, in the right hands, can be a seed for the future.

LOS DOCE CÓDIGOS DEL AMOR (THE TWELVE CODES OF LOVE)

Astrology is your best ally to discover the unconscious fears that block your relationships and get the love you deserve

Have you ever wondered why some people find a partner right away and others don't even manage to find one? Some people put it down to bad luck, but the reality is that many of us are burdened with unconscious fears that block us and make us repeat patterns ad nauseam and always run into the same type of people.

In astrology, the Moon is key when analyzing our birth chart, as it helps us to understand how we relate, reveals the childhood wounds we carry and how we lived our first love: that of our mother (or equivalent person), a model that we will repeat in all our relationships.

There are twelve possible lunar patterns: twelve unconscious fears that define how we relate to each other. To become aware of them, and also of the planets with which they interact, is essential to, if it is convenient for us, change them and access good relationships, in which no one heals anyone, but both members of the couple form a team.

Key selling points

- One of the most prominent voices of astrology in Spain.
- An innovative book that shows us the path to discover our unconscious ways of think and feel.
- A must read for those who want to heal them self's and to build meaningful relationships.

SÍ A (CASI) TODO (YES TO (ALMOST) EVERITHING)

Stay away from empty self-help and focus on what you really master, turning with less effort your flaws into virtues

In a world where everyone pushes you to pursue more, to accumulate more "successful habits", here is the truth: you are already have what you need. What you do every day might be enough, and yet you don't realize you must give a direct punch to that mentality based on the «need more»: be more, do more, have more...

No, you don't need to reinvent yourself.

You don't need another 10-step morning ritual or a fashion diet. You need to adjust.

You need to refocus.

You need to know and exploit what you already have.

Yeah, we all have some disastrous habit. But this book tells you what no one else will do: that habit of watching 4 chapters of a series before bed, with a little twist, can be your most powerful weapon. And you don't have to feel bad about it.

While others keep looking for the next big trick or trend, you'll be boosting your life with the same habits you already practice.

Less effort.

More impact.

Less noise.

More action.

This is not your sweetened self-help manual. It's a call to authenticity, to recognize and empower what you already own.

So, stop looking. You have the ultimate guide to empower your life like you've never tried before.

EL PEQUEÑO GRAN LIBRO DE LA ANSIEDAD (The Small, Big Book of Anxiety)

Baby steps in the path to taking charge of your anxiety

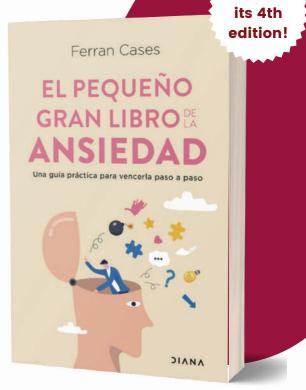

Nervousness, worry, panic. We have all been affected by anxiety at one time or another. Not in vain is one of the most common mental disorders in the West, which may present itself as a simple nuisance but sometimes becomes a huge black cloud that prevents us from living as we want.

Ferran Cases, an expert in anxiety, invites us to explore the patterns that lead us to feel it and teaches us how to change them. He does this in small and accessible steps, which the author represents in the form of a staircase of stages to overcome. Step by step, we will learn to breathe, to calm our inner voice and control catastrophic thoughts, to soak up the importance of physical exercise or mindfulness, to cultivate habits that allow us to keep moving forward.

The way out of anxiety is to know ourselves and redirect our way of interpreting the world, and we just have to have the courage to take the first step. In this new edition, completely revised and expanded, Cases includes new exercises and five additional steps that, based on the philosophical principle of Stoicism, will help us conquer the art of true happiness.

SOY COMO COMO (I AM WHAT I EAT)

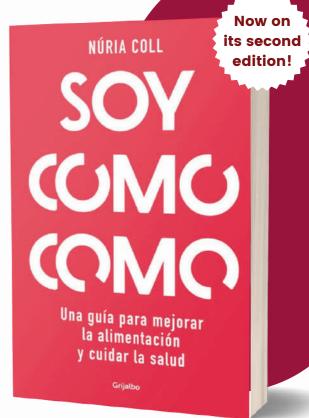

Spain's most renowned food journalist and health communicator tells us everything she knows about nutrition and health.

Eating healthy is not difficult, but sometimes we get lost among so many facts and fad diets. It is not necessary to learn every new nutritional study; it would probably serve us better to stop and think a little. In this book of reflections and advice, the journalist specialized in healthy eating, Núria Coll, with ideas and thoughts that ultimately come from a place of common sense, proposes a clear objective: to awaken in the reader the ambition to have their own criteria so that you do not depend on what the gurus say you have to eat. This book is going to empower you to find your own way in your diet.

"When in 2014 I started in healthy eating outreach, I didn't have much knowledge, but in a short time I realized that, urgently, we needed to avoid many of the jars and packages that fill our pantries. In a matter of weeks I changed my eating habits radically, started eating healthy and learned something crucial: what was important was not just what to eat, but how."

Key selling points

- The definitive, friendly, shame and guilt-free guide to eating consciously and doing what's best for your mind and body.
- Coll is an influencer with 111K followers on her Instagram @soycomocomo.es and 80K followers on her personal page, @nuria__coll.

EL MÉTODO TOKEI (THE TOKEI METHOD)

Chronobiology for happiness. Adapt your routine for a healthier life

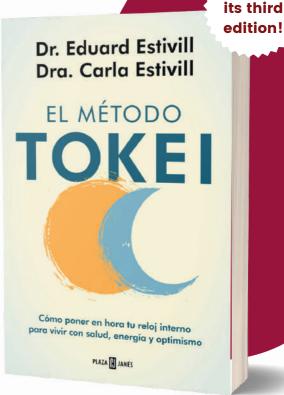

Thousands of years ago humans were harmonically connected to the natural cycles, which brought health, energy and emotional well-being.

Currently, we still depend on time, but no longer pay attention to our internal clocks, responsible for appetite, sleep, energy or fatigue. This results in cardiovascular problems, metabolic diseases such as obesity or diabetes, psychic disorders and in the worst cases a greater propensity to certain types of cancer.

Based on chronobiology, this method is a training to learn to listen to our bodies and reconnect with its rhythms. Its easy recommendations will help us synchronize our tokei or internal clock to enjoy a life full of optimism and health.

GENIOTIPO ("GENIOTYPE")

Learn to recognize your own talent and become the best version of yourself

Loving what we do is the secret to achieve great things in life, and it is necessary to know what our passion and genius are. Nobody is good at everything, but everyone is great at doing something, because we all have a special gift that makes us unique. Discovering and enhancing that special something is the purpose of this book. Because to deploy all your talent and offer it to the world, first you must know what kind of genius you are. That is, you must know your "geniotype".

In this way, we will learn to develop our abilities to the fullest and not only we will successfully achieve our life purpose on a personal and professional level, but we will also better understand our family, friends and colleagues.

DESAYUNO CON PARTÍCULAS (BREAKFAST WITH PARTICLES)

Because understanding quantum theory is better through breakfast

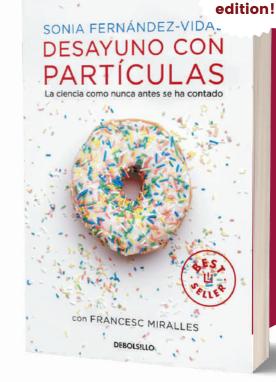

If you venture into these pages, you will discover a universe as wonderful as it is bewildering. Quantum theory is one of the most beautiful and amazing theories in science. The rules it follows are crazy compared to our everyday lives. They're counter-intuitive. As we enter the quantum world, our beliefs about reality, including our everyday reality, are challenged.

Sonia Fernández-Vidal, writer and Doctor in Quantum Physics, and Francesc Miralles, writer and journalist, invite us to a fun breakfast to which Newton, Einstein, Heisenberg and other famous physicists of history are also invited. Among cupcakes, doughnuts, coffee and orange juice, we will undertake a fascinating and revealing journey to the origins of the universe.

We'll learn what a particle accelerator is for, what the God particle is, how things can be in two places at once... and we'll try to understand the mysteries of existence.

NAMASTÉ

The Indian way to happiness

Namasté is a powerful inspiration for happiness in every aspect of our life. For 5000 years, India has been the origin of the great streams of spirituality that have shaped humanity and, better still, what the world can be like in terms of happiness if we return to the sources.

Many practices currently in vogue in the West, such as Yoga or meditation have their origin in India, as well as concepts such as Karma or ancient healing systems such as Ayurveda. It's hard not to be impressed by this melting pot of infinite treasures that is India.

Francesc Miralles & Héctor García have written a fresh. current and enlightening book that responds to the challenges of today, after the scourge of the pandemic.

LA FUERZA DE SER ALTAMENTE SENSIBLE (THE POWER OF BEING HIGHLY SENSITIVE)

Tips and tricks to turn a Highly Sensitive Person's traits into superpowers

Do you have a keen sense of smell and hear the slightest noise? Do you get overwhelmed in crowded places? Do you notice subtleties that go unnoticed by most people?

If you answered yes, it is possible that you are a highly sensitive person: your neurological wiring is different, you perceive more information through your senses than other people, and you are often overwhelmed by this flood of stimuli. But when you understand how your machinery works, you will discover that high sensitivity can work in your favor.

Creativity plays a key role in highly sensitive people, as it gives them the ability to see unlimited options at any given moment. In addition to all the information you need to find out if you or someone you care about is highly sensitive, this book teaches you how to tap into your sensitive and creative nature, discover your potential, and build a fulfilling life in accordance with your personality.

Key selling points

- A new topic with a lot of attention from the media.
- Strengthening concepts for highly sensitive people for daily use.
- A radical take on mental health: this book is a guide for anyone and everyone, so that we may all understand acute sensitivity as a positive value and not as a problem.

Meritxell Garcia Roig is a trainer, writer and coach expert in empathy and high sensitivity by the Institute of Integrative Nutrition in New York. She accompanies highly sensitive people towards a path of self-knowledge through her method of Empathic Gym to know themselves better and make peace with their sensitivity. She also offers training and personalized consulting to companies, helping them to create an empathic culture and create more innovative teams. Empathy is the key to conflict resolution, creativity, negotiation, networking and genuine human connection, both professionally and personally. She is the author of El arte de la empatía (Amat, 2019) and the children's book En tus zapatos (La Galera, 2021).

AMB ULLS DE DONA (Through a Woman's Eyes)

This is the life story of a woman who was an innovator in her time, but was made invisible by the men in her family

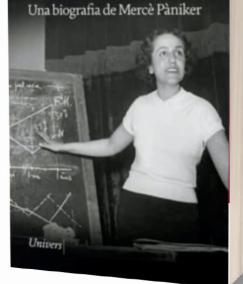

The daughter of an Indian and a Catalan, Merce Pàniker grew up in Barcelona in the 1920s and spent her adolescence in a boarding school in Nazi Germany, from where she would return at the outbreak of World War II. She studied chemistry at the University of Barcelona, and soon after a master's degree at the University of Leeds, where only four girls were enrolled among more than twenty boys. She was often the only woman in a men's world and always looked everyone in the face, without excusing herself, without asking for permission.

On her return to Barcelona, she took charge of the family gluing company Pàniker, S.A. and promoted a strong associative network within the chemical sector. When her husband died suddenly, she had to raise her four children alone. With the arrival of democracy, she became involved in the defense of women's freedom and equality.

SOMIANT LA PAU (DREAMING OF PEACE)

The impressions of Nadia Ghulam, Afghan storyteller and activist, on the Taliban reach to power in August 2021

These pages were born after conversations between Nadia and the journalist Ariadna Oltra, in which they talked about how she and her relatives have lived this last year, what she had to do to get part of her family to Spain and what they are living in Kabul those who have not been able to leave. The story of a few and, however, the reality of thousands of Afghan families and from other parts of the world.

That August, the media bombarded us with shocking images of men falling out of a plane as they desperately tried to flee the occupation. Months later, no talks about what is happening there, nor how the people who were able to flee and who have been welcomed in different parts of the world are faring.

Key selling points

- From the author of El secret del meu turbant, which has sold more than 100K copies in Spain and been reprinted 30 times in different formats, as well as and translated to 12 languages.
- The direct testimony of an Afghan woman who pretended to be a man while she was still in Afghanistan to save her life.
- A distinctly feminine perspective on the plight of Afghans after the summer of 2021.

Nadia Ghulam Dastgir was born in Kabul (Afghanistan) in 1985. Her life, like that of so many other Afghan women, is marked by the consequences of a bloody civil war, hunger and the Taliban regime. But such adversities could not stop her and Nadia managed to get by thanks to her ingenuity and courage, pretending to be a boy for ten years in order to feed her family. Already fully settled in our country, Nadia wanted to tell her story, and she did it with the collaboration of journalist Agnès Rotger in the novel El secret del meu turbant (Edicions 62, 2010). The work won the prestigious Prudenci Bertrana award in 2010, and was highly praised by national critics. It is also worth mentioning that Nadia published with Joan Soler i Amigó the book Cuentos que me curaron (Columna, 2014), a beautiful compilation of the stories that her mother told her in the hospital during her convalescence as a result of the wounds caused by the bomb that changed her life. In 2016, Nadia publishes with Javier Diéguez her second novel, La primera estrella de la noche (Plaza & Janés, 2016). This is a novel based on real events that tells the daily experiences of Afghan women fighters in a country that has suffered one armed conflict after another for more than forty years.

EL PROBLEMA DE SER DEMASIADO BUENO (THE PROBLEM OF BEING TOO GOOD)

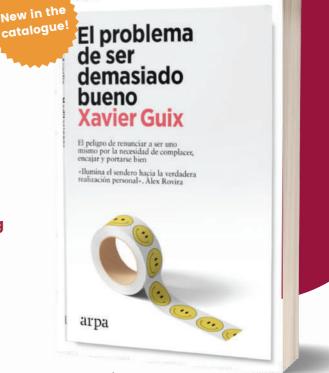

In a society where we are taught obedience is synonymous of goodness, Xavier Guix offers a helping hand for those who are kind for everyone but themselves.

There is a group of people who often identify with the label of "good people", being "good boys and girls", and being characterized by patterns of behavior of obedience, being good, and being highly compliant when not perfectionists. This type of personality affects these people who end up being good to everyone except themselves. That is what "bad kindness" consists of.

The book consists of breaking down all the characteristics that constitute this personality, its neuroticisms, its structural rigidity and the consequences throughout life. Once all this done, Guix offers a path to de-identify from these basic patterns and move towards a more flexible, genuine and authentic life. All this through a simple language, close and with many examples.

Key selling points

- With clear reminiscences of Nietzsche's philosophy, this book addresses one of the key factors of unhappiness in our society: the widespread thought that obedience, being highly compliant, as well as perfectionism are strictly positive traits. Many people will find in the words of Guix a revelation that will exponentially improve their happiness.
- This book breaks down all the characteristics that constitute this personality trait, and responds to how to de-identify from the basic patterns, modelling a more flexible, more genuine and authentic life. All this through a simple language, close and with many examples and suggestions for work, by an expert in Clinical Psychopathology.

A helping hand to reach the true secret of prosperity through the energy of the Hebrew expression Mazal Tov

The expression Mazal Tov (טוב מזל) is an Hebrew locution translated as "good luck". Comes from the medieval Hebrew word mazzāl (destiny) and, going further away in time, it comes from the Akadian manzaltu (star's position).

Mazal Tov is a wish expressed orally in Jewish celebrations, and its exact meaning is "I am desirous good things happen to you". It's a benediction to make the drip of inspiration flow, in order to recognize what you have and achievieng more.

Furthermore, if we explore the deep meaning of each of the consonants that conform this word full energy and abundance. we shall reach the true secret of prosperity.

MEDITAR DONA VIDA (MEDITATE BRINGS LIFE)

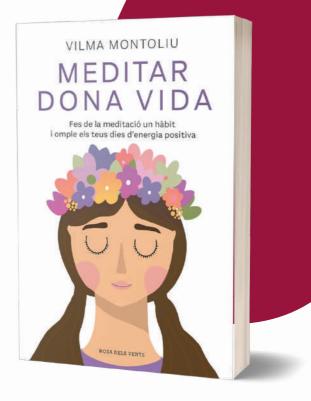

How to adapt meditation to our routine to fill the day with positive energy.

To meditate, you don't have to leave your mind blank or isolate yourself in the mountains, nor do you need to lock yourself in a dark room with music and incense. You just have to incorporate meditation into your daily routine through exercises created by Vilma Montoliu, easy to learn and with which you will discover the benefits of meditating. Because, you know what? Meditation is inside you, you just have to wake it up.

Learn to meditate in the shower, while you stretch your clothes, queuing in the supermarket, on your way to work or while you water your plants. With meditation, you will fill yourself with energy, you will increase your self-esteem and concentration, you will enjoy more of your day to day and, in short, you will live happier.

MI DESEO DEPENDE DE MÍ (MY DESIRE DEPENDS ON ME)

The sexual manual for the women who have decided to look in the mirror naked and take control of her pleasure

My desire depends on me is about the key aspects to understand feminine masturbation. It is a powerful guide to allow women to understand how powerful they can be if they can understand their bodies and to master pleasure both in a relationship and individually.

With a fresh style that will turn this into a diabolically entertaining read, the author provides answers and generates questions around the concept of sexuality and pleasure, as well as orgasms and all the notions behind them.

A fantastic read for those who are ready to always go one step further and keep control of their feelings, bodies and experiences.

ESTO NO SE DICE (WE DON'T TALK ABOUT THAT)

A necessary depiction of the greatest evils we face: sexual abuse, bullying, depression... All through many childhood memories of Alejandro Palomas

After a childhood marked by sexual abuse, years of eternal bullying and a hypersensitivity that on many occasions brought him to the brink of suicide, Alejandro Palomas spins in these pages a serene and electrifying story with which he flies unfiltered over childhood memories, the unparalleled relationship with his mother, the shadow of a father who finally disappeared and the power of imagination and writing as the last plank of salvation. This is the most sincere testimony of a man who bet on living and who succeeded thanks to his passion for inventing and sharing worlds, always with tenderness and humor, and who now transforms his life into the greatest of stories.

Literature allowed him to create imaginary universes better than the life around him and over the years these fictions have helped him find the words to show the whole truth.

Key selling points

- Childhood sexual abuse victims are 10 times more likely to commit suicide: this is the sincerest testament of a man who bet on living.
- An emotional, honest and beautiful depiction of Paloma's tremendous childhood, that could be relatable to many.
- Brave enough to adventure through many necessary -yet taboo- topics.
- One of the most important writers in Spanish nowadays, being an internationally renowned bestseller author.

Alejandro Palomas (Barcelona, 1967) has a degree in English Philology from the University de Barcelona and a Master's degree in Poetry from the New College of San Francisco. He collaborated with several newspapers and publications and translated writers such as Katherine Mansfield, Gertrude Stein, Willa Cather and Jack London, among others. He wrote the screenplay Ojos de invierno, based on his novel Tanta vida (2008), whose rights were sold to Filmax. In 2002, he was chosen as the FNAC New Talent for his novel El tiempo del corazón. Then he was shortlisted for the Ciudad de Torrevieja Award for Best Novel with his book El secreto de los Hoffman, adapted into a play in 2009. In 2011, he published El tiempo que nos une and El cel que ens queda. His works Una Madre, Un Perro and Un Hijo were all critically-acclaimed and translated into a number of languages.

TU CEREBRO EMOCIONAL (YOUR EMOTIONAL BRAIN)

The definitive guide to understanding your inner compass and reaching happiness through neuroscience

Why is it important to listen to your emotional brain? Why do emotions affect you so much if you don't manage them and take advantage of them? What is the neuroscience of emotions? How can you manage them better and follow your inner compass to be happy in your life?

Through personal anecdotes, psychologist Monia Presta invites you on a journey of transformation towards personal well-being through her TIE method. The psychologist helps her patients to go through their emotions like a journey, just as the heroes and heroines of ancient Greece did.

Learn how your emotional brain works at a neuroscientific level and you will discover how to better manage your emotions using the psychological tools and very practical psychophysical exercises of the TIE Method to transform your life and travel to places of freedom and inner well-being. Thousands of people have already reshaped their lives thanks to the power of the emotional brain and the TIE Method.

Key selling points

- Presta uses the tools of neuroscience to guide us to a place of understanding when it comes to our own emotions.
- A healthy reminder that we are not at the mercy of our emotions, but rather they are a tool that we can use to become stronger individuals.

Monia Presta is an Italian-Spanish clinical psychologist, writer, creator of Strategic Integrative Therapy, sexologist, couple therapist and actress. She is also an international lecturer, trainer and pioneer of Theatre Therapy in Spain. She is dedicated to spreading her teachings about psychology and personal growth in different media: TV, Radio and Press.

- Rico uses a fantastic analogy of our society: hyper-vitaminated by the excess of social networks and social approval, the protagonist of this story gave priority to wearing a mask, instead of working on her weak points, creating an emptiness inside her which many readers can identify.
- This work conveys a series of key values for happiness, which Rico, as a veteran author of motivational books, has managed to mix phenomenally. We are talking about letting go of negative thoughts and finding self-worth, freeing ourselves from labels and comparison.

Sonia Rico (Sabadell, 1975) has a degree in Audiovisual Communication and a master's degree in Research in Journalism and Communication (UAB). She is a journalist and writer, a profession she combines as a Coach, Neurolinguistic Programming therapist, Emotional Kinesiologist and Yoga Instructor.

Her constant research in the field of personal development and consciousness led her to build and offer this magical tool called BioCoaching, because she believes that through it, we can become architects of our dreams and builders of our lives. Her second book, Te amarás sobre todas las cosas, wants to help people reach their best version of themselves and to reach a real state of happiness.

EL HÁBITO HACE AL MONJE (THE HABIT MAKES THE MONK)

A key guide to understand that our habits and customs shape the person we are

We often think that it is the big events that will significantly change our existence and we forget that our life is a reflection of what we are living. Having a full life is possible through training. But, for that, it is necessary to learn some things and unlearn many others.

Sonia Rico's book offers a new way of looking at and going through your own life. The author, who is a yoga teacher, therapist and experienced coach, teaches us, through various resources, that we have all the conditions to be happy. We just have to train ourselves with small steps that we can take every day.

Buddha was not a God, nor a magical being. He simply developed powerful habits that helped him to take care of his body, his mind and his relationship with the world. Many of his teachings were passed down to Buddhist monks to be practiced daily. Best of all, you too can incorporate them into your life, so don't wait any longer... and get into the habit!

• A practical and fun guide on how you can transform

 Do you feel unhappy at certain times? Do you live under stress or suffer from anxiety? Do your negative thoughts betray you? El hábito hace al monje will help you overcome these obstacles that prevent you from living a fulfilling life.

A personal renovation through the small moments that compose our everday life

Everyday happiness leans on lots of little rituals of which we are normally unaware of. Having a cup of coffee when we wake up, walking to work, meeting with our friends or going back to the oasis that is home... all these actions can be meaningful and transformative if we carry them out with sense, celebrating every instant that life gives us.

This little course on everyday magic is an invitation to being happy with the small moments that, as the wise men and women say, when we look back on them we realize that they are the big, important ones.

 Structured through everyday rituals that we do at different times of the day, sometimes even without realizing we are doing anything. What the author wants us to do is to experience how we live, with a mindfulness that allows us to introduce little changes that will give us more energy and

PROSPERIDAD: 7 PODERES PARA MANIFESTARLA (PROSPERITY: 7 POWERS TO MANIFEST IT)

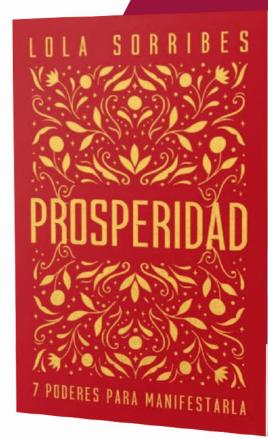

Seven simple steps to achieve prosperity and access a life full of wealth, fulfillment, happiness and blessings

Can you imagine if you could connect to the wifi of the Universe and ask it for everything you want? What would you ask for if you knew that your greatest desires would be granted? Many people believe that prosperity is mostly about material wealth. In this book full of magic and wisdom we will learn that true prosperity is a spiritual quality within the reach of any person and that it extends to all areas of life, not just external wealth.

Through seven keys, carefully unraveled by the author, and a series of very useful and powerful practical exercises, we will learn to raise our vibration, to eliminate all the obstacles that stand in our way and to become the truly prosperous and happy people we are called to be.

SUZUKI NOBUO

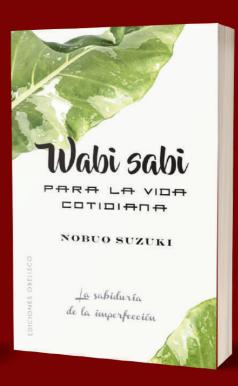

The authors of Ikigai under a pseudonym, bringing fresh new sights of Japanese culture

Suzuki Nobuo is an author and philosopher, he studied Art and Literature in Europe before starting to write about creativity and personal development. He loves playing the piano, traveling around the world and living with cats. His first work, Wabi Sabi for Everyday Life, considers the beauty of imperfection and how understanding this concept can deeply transform our lives. In his second work, Ganbatte: the Japanese Art of Moving Forward.

MANEKI NEKO

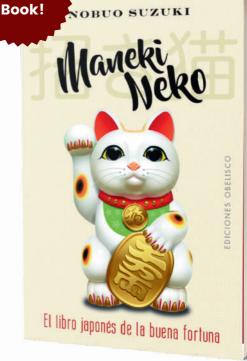

A fun new look into Japanese culture and the ways it can help us lead a more fulfilling life.

The most popular Japanese symbol of good luck is Maneki Neko (招き猫), the figure of the cat with a raised paw that can be found all over the world today. There are different legends about its origin, but it is believed that the cat summons prosperity and fortune. In its right paw it holds a koban (小判), an ancient Japanese coin, and often wears a bell around its neck to ward off evil spirits.

This is just one of the many symbols and rituals that exist in Japanese culture to attract good luck and ward off calamity.

Shinto, the ancestral religion of Japan, has numerous rites to attract money, love or fortune, and Buddhism or the animist religions of territories such as Okinawa or Hokkaid-o have their own rituals. How does each of them work and what history or deep meaning underlies this belief? How can we summon good luck with our daily habits? This book explores all the tools (some magical, some practical) to attract fortune and fulfill our wishes.

In addition to learning these different rituals in an easy and inspirational way, the reader will explore the essence of good luck and how we can incorporate it into our lives with the appropriate habits and attitudes.

GANBATTE

The Japanese Philosophy for achieving your aims

Ganbatte is the philosophy of self-effort and connection to what one wants. The change you need in life is already in you, but you need to reach out to it yourself; find the path that will open your mind to be conscious about what you want. In Japan, right before an exam, students don't wish good luck to one another. They sav Ganbatte! because getting where you want to be has nothing to do with luck. It's about the energy and the effort you devote to something that will help you reach your objectives.

This is not a regular new book, this is the brandnew concept that will take the world by surprise. It is something fresh and new that is perfect for the times we are living.

WABI-SABI

The Wisdom of Imperfection

Dominated by stress, multitasking and perfectionism, our existence produces a huge amount of unhappiness, as this way of living moves us away from the essence of reality. Although it might seem like a contradiction, it doesn't help us get better results in the different areas of our lives either.

Instead, the ancient Japanese philosophy of Wabi-Sabi ("the beauty of imperfection") is a totally different way of caring for ourselves and growing through acceptance: a more intimate, natural and connected path to nature.

In the same way that in Japan a cup with irregularities, and even a crack, is considered more beautiful and valuable than a perfect, symmetrical and uniform one, the philosophy of Wabi-Sabi brings together three characteristics from nature: nothing is perfect (and it is lovely that it should be so); nothing is finished (we are always growing); and nothing is forever (the ephemeral nature of things and people is what gives them value).

NÍRIAN TIRADO TORRAS

Tirado is the expert of reference on parenting, with a clear focus on emotional education

Míriam Tirado was born in Manresa in 1976. She's studied journalism and has worked in the Catalan and Spanish media world. However, her main inclination, apart from writing, has always been motherhood. Her mother is a prenatal educator and therapist, and they've written a book together. This increased Miriam's passion for these subjects and, when her first daughter was born in 2009, she decided to start a blog to narrate this exciting new period. This portal is still active and publishes articles on motherhood, fatherhood and raising children.

Currently, she works as a parenting consultant and has already published several non-fiction works that have helped thousands of families. She gives courses and lectures, has a YouTube channel and a podcast, and continues to write on her blog miriamtirado.com

SENTIR (TO FEEL)

A trip to learn and accompany your emotions to reach deeper and more meaningful bonds

Most of us haven't been taught emotional education, neither we have received the resources to know what to do with how we feel. Nevertheless, we have to accompany the emotions of our children, family or friends. How can we achieve it, if we don't even know how to manage ours?

This book is a trip through the senses to understand why is it so hard to receive and canalize assertively what we feel, in special those emotions blocked inside us.

When we learn how to manage our own feelings, it will be much easier to accompany others without any fear, living a more conscious and fulfilling life.

RABIETAS (TANTRUMS)

A complete guide on understanding tantrums, using them to make children learn and grow

All children have them and all parents have to deal with them. They are the famous tantrums, capable of upsetting even the most conscientious and respectful adult. Temper tantrums often bring out our worst side, and in those cases, sadness and a sense of failure are inevitable.

What if so much suffering is unnecessary? What if it is absurd to even think about putting an end to tantrums, because they are an essential aspect in the development of children? What if the key is you, your ability to be present and to bring awareness to the situation?

You may find this hard to believe, but tantrums offer a golden opportunity to learn and grow together. Miriam Tirado accompanies you in this process of learning, so that you can educate the little ones from another place, more serene, considerate and free of pain... even in the middle of a tantrum.

LÍMITES (BOUNDARIES)

How to educate with conscious limits and grow together

Míriam Tirado, one of the main referents of conscious upbringing and education, dedicates her new book to one of the most important and, as we all know, most complicated aspects for mothers and fathers: limits, those red lines that protect the integrity of the little ones and allow them to share life with other people. How can we sustain conscious limits and agreed rules that provide structure and security to our children, how can we avoid falling into authoritarianism and arbitrariness or, on the contrary, into a lack of limits that lead children to feel fear, insecurity or to seek validation at all costs? With the humility that characterizes her, Míriam Tirado shares her own doubts, learnings, challenges and achievements on the road to loving and responsible limits. A deeply personal work, which accompanies us with empathy and humor in the exploration of our own relationship with limits so that we are able, with the help of different exercises and tools, to provide children with coherent support.

LA AMBICIÓN AMABLE (POSITIVE AMBITION)

Know and empower your ambition in a sustainable and powerful way to achieve positive changes in all aspects of your life

When I became friends with ambition, I began to feel an extraordinary strength that led me to discover that I was an extremely ambitious person. The simple act of verbalizing it, of saying to myself "Anna, you are super ambitious", gave me confidence on all levels and helped me to have more clarity about what I want to achieve. For me, ambition is directly related to what we feel, to our emotions and desires.

Especially over the last few years, ambition has been a necessary energy to always go one step further in all areas of my life. My purpose with this book is to bring ambition closer to people, to bring it closer to you so that you too can activate that powerful energy that allows you to live with enthusiasm and determination. You will see that very soon you will start to feel that motivation every day in every aspect of your life.
